Mexican Uprisings Menace Americans' Safety

H. E. Taylor Selected
On The Committee To Notify V. Presidential Nominee Of Nomination

(Special to The Times)

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—The Ohio delegation to the Democratic National Convention here organized today at a harmonious session by the election of Hon. Judson Harmon, chairman; W. S. Thomas, vice chairman; James Metzbaum, secretary; Joseph Dowling, of Dayton, sergeant-at-arms; E. H. Moore, national committeeman; Thomas McDowell, of Columbus, vice president, of the convention; Clarence A. Greer, of Dayton, credential committee; O. A. Ewalt, of Columbus, rules and order of business committee; Senator Atlas Pomerene, resolutions committee; W. A. Julian, of Cincinnati, on committee to notify presidential nominee of nomination; Harry E. Taylor, of Portsmouth, committee to notify vice presidential nominee of nomination.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—Delegates for the Democratic National Convention have turned from discussion of ticket and platform to consideration of a chairman of a national committee and those to be associated with him in the management of President Wilson's campaign for re-election.

Three names are under consideration today for the chairmanship. They are: United States Senator Willard Saulsbury, of Delaware; Homer H. Cummings, of Connecticut, vice chairman of the present committee, and Colonel E. M. House, of New York. President Wilson has indicated that any one of the three men was agreeable to him.

Wilbur W. Marsh, national committeeman from Iowa, is most likely to be chosen as treasurer, to succeed Rolla Wells. Henry Morrethau probably will again be chairman of the finance committee.

The new national committee meets on Saturday and expects to select the chairman at this time. The committeemen generally agree that they would prefer to name as leader one of their own members and will do so unless President Wilson wants some one else. Mr. Cummings is almost certain to be the man if the chairmanship is taken from within their own number.

Col. E. M. House, is President Wilson's close friend and has carried out many confidential missions for the White House.

Wilbur Marsh, of Waterloo, Ia., led the fight for the Clark forces from Iowa and the middle western states at the Baltimore convention four years ago and his selection, it was urged would further heal any scars that may remain from that contest.

Prospects of a fight over a vice presidential nominee diminished today as incoming delegates lined up behind Vice President Marshall. Some of the candidates

The young lady across the way says perhaps the truth is that Shakespeare wrote some of his plays and Bacon some, and it never did seem to her as if the same man could have written the Merchant of Venice and Paradise Lost, for instance.

THE GERMAN ADVANCE ON
VERDUN FRONT

Berlin, June 13.—(Via London)—A further advance on the Verdun front near Fort. Douaumont was announced today by the war office. British troops have begun a movement against German positions southeast of Ypres.

ALLIED FLEETS
BOMBARDING
BULGAR COAST

Paris, June 13.—A Saloniki dispatch to the Radio agency says that allied fleets are bombarding the southern Bulgarian coast from Port Lagos to Deleaghat. The population is fleeing inland, the dispatch says.

"Put America First," Says President Wilson
"Undiluted Americanism," Is Hughes' View

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 13.

President Wilson, making his first address since the presidential campaign began today, discussed preparedness, militarism, Americanism, the causes of the war in Europe, peace, the Monroe doctrine, divided allegiance and the ideals of America. He declared it is the present imperative duty of the United States to be prepared, adding "Mankind is going to know that when America speaks she means what she says."

The president said the United States could not be a blustering nation, a nation with a chip on its shoulder, but a calm nation, which will withhold its hand as long as possible and strike only for victory.

The president's address ran through the almost entire list of subjects discussed by former Justice Hughes in his telegram accepting Republican nomination and he declared that the United States is ready to join with other nations to see that the kind of justice it believes in is given.

Shaking his finger emphatically the president told the graduates of the military academy and a large audience that nobody who does not put America first can be tolerated. He added however, that true Americans should set a good example. The president declared the present war did not come by accident, but that it had to come. The United States wants nothing from Europe, he said, and there is nothing she wants which she must get by war. He sounded a warning that no man can tell what the next day will bring forth in the world's events.

The word "Americanism" was used today by the president for the first time in recent addresses. He constantly referred to the West Point graduates to whom he was speaking, but referred more to national and international problems. He warned the grads against militarism.

The president's speech was frequently interrupted by applause and he was cheered as he concluded.

WOODROW WILSON, CHIEF.

NEW YORK, June 13.—

Charles E. Hughes, in response to questions put to him today by newspaper men in regard to his attitude towards the support offered him by the German Americans said it was "One of undiluted Americanism."

"I stated my position very clearly," said the presidential candidate, "in my telegram to the convention. My attitude is one of undiluted Americanism, and anybody that supports me is supporting an out and out American and an out and out American policy, absolutely nothing else."

Mr. Hughes dictated his statement on "undiluted Americanism" in response to repeated requests of interviewers and in the face of his previously announced determination to say nothing further on the issues of the day until his formal notification of nomination.

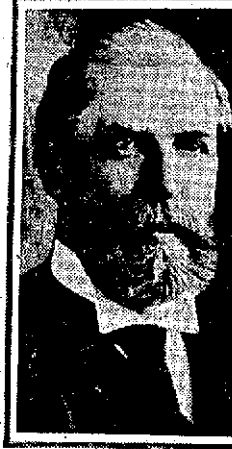

At the same time, it was made clear to callers that the nominee had used what he thought was the most emphatic language he could have used on this subject in his telegram last Saturday to Chairman Harding of the Republican National Convention. Leaders at the Hughes' headquarters, apparently were genuinely surprised that doubt should have remained as the nominee's attitude on this point.

It will be a long campaign and a strenuous campaign according to the present outlook at headquarters and there will be ample opportunity, it is felt, between now and November to go into detail on every issue before the American people. This the nominee intends to do, headquarters leaders announced.

The nominee, they said, probably will start early on his speech-making tours.

Indications were today that Mr. Hughes would remain in New York until he begins his speech-making tours, with the exception of his contemplated visit to Brown University next week.

Oscar S. Strauss, former candidate for Governor of New York, on the Progressive ticket, sent a telegram to Mr. Hughes today pledging his support. Mr. Strauss' promise of support was sent from Cleveland.

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES, CANDIDATE.

Scales Have Fallen
From Progressive's Eyes;
Are 'Sore' on Roosevelt

(Copyright by W. J. Bryan)

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—The first thought of the delegates as they assembled is how to make success at the polls more certain. They have been quick to see the advantage to be gained from an appeal to the Progressive votes.

From now until election day the season will be open so to speak, for the hunting of Progressives.

They are bitterly resentful because of the treatment which they received at the hands of the Republican convention. They now see very clearly what some saw dimly at the convention, viz: that the regular Republican organization had no thought of making any concessions whatever to the Progressive party. The G. O. P. Convention demanded of the Progressives not only a surrender of their candidate, but a surrender of their political principle and fundamental convictions. And to make the Democratic opportunity more promising, the Progressives are almost as resentful toward Colonel Roosevelt as they are towards the stand-pat leaders.

They expected more of the could have no real sympathy with Colonel than they did of the re-form as it is defined in the reactionary Republicans, and there-harts of the Progressives, who felt the snub more keenly four years ago revolted against when he gave them the marble the reactionary leaders. "Progressive" Planks
Are Favored By Bryan
In Democratic Platform

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—William J. Bryan, newspaper reporter from Nebraska, arrived here today to "cover" the Democratic National Convention. He asserted most emphatically that his reportorial role would be his first interest. But the former secretary of state, chief builder of many Democratic platforms, including the one on which the party now stands, and author of numerous peace treaties, has a new treaty to propose to other Democratic leaders—a pact between the Democrats and Progressives to induce most of the Bull Moose-ers to support the Democratic ticket next fall.

"Now is the opportune time for the Democratic party to get most of the Progressives," said Mr. Bryan in a hasty "across-the-corridor" interview as he reached his hotel today.

"The Progressives were not all satisfied with the results of their convention at Chicago," Mr. Bryan continued. "I believe the time is ripe for the Democrats to secure a large part of the Progressive vote. They are closest to us in sympathy, anyway, you know." Mr. Bryan added. He indicated that this might be largely accomplished by the writing of the Democratic platform with Progressive planks that would appeal to the Bull Moose.

When Mr. Bryan arrived few of the Democratic leaders were out of bed, but he had an immediate reception in the hotel lobby and with difficulty made his way through a crowd of hand shakers to his room.

Later Mr. Bryan made the following statement: "I have come to the convention as a newspaper correspondent and do not expect to take any official part in the convention. Having been defeated for delegate in my own state, I will not accept a seat on the floor of the convention as an alternate from Nebraska nor accept a proxy from any other state."

This was charged yesterday by officers of the independent companies, who were to continue their testimony today. Standard Oil Company officials were, on hand anxious to go on the witness stand and give their explanation of the increase.

Washington, June 13.—The federal trade commission continued today its investigation into the causes of the high prices of gasoline. It sought to develop whether the Standard Oil Company had endangered the existence of independent oil jobbers in Western states by fixing a low retail price for gasoline there, and at the same time paying refiners such high prices for their product that independent jobbers could not do business profitably.

Berlin, June 13.—(Wireless to Sayville)—A squadron of Austrian aeroplanes attacked Venice on Sunday night. Several other points in Northern Italy were bombed. An official Austrian report of June 12 says the raid was successful.

Cleveland, O., June 13.—Fire which broke out in the Rainbow Cottage settlement for crippled children early today, was extinguished after two hundred children had been carried to safety by nurses. None was injured.

AMERICANS SLAIN IN RUMORED IN EL PASO;
U. S. TROOPS WIPE
OUT BANDIT BAND

(BULL ETIN)

El Paso, Texas, June 13.—A rumor was current in El Paso today that several Americans had been killed in a native uprising at Chihuahua City. The rumor was attributed to a dispatch received over the telegraph lines of the Mexico Northwestern railway, but officials denied that such a message had been received.

Field Headquarters, General Pershing's, June 13.—(Via radio to Columbus, N. M.)—The finishing blow was given the largest surviving band of Villa followers in Chihuahua at daylight June 9th, by twenty men of the Thirtieth cavalry under Captain Otto W. Rotherse in dashing canyon fighting twenty miles north of Santa Clara near here. The Americans were unhurt.

The Americans routed, twenty-five bandits, killing three, wounding several, and capturing all their horses and saddles, some rifles and ammunition. The band was completely crippled.

A night ride brought the Americans into the canyon at daybreak, where they followed fresh horse tracks. Riding at a gallop they rounded a canyon turn within 200 yards of the bandits who were encamped in a grove of pines. It was a complete surprise. There was a headlong rush among the Villa followers, who half clad, grasped rifles and fought from behind trees.

This band is said to have been the largest surviving remnant of the force of Candelaria Cervantes, who was killed three weeks ago in a brush with Americans.

Demonstrations

Continues

Washington, D. C., June 13.—While some state department advices today gave a more favorable aspect to conditions in Northern Mexico, others reported further anti-American demonstrations, leaving the situation generally unchanged. The agitation has subsided in the Chihuahua City region, where the most violent outbreaks occurred.

Secretary Lansing refused to make public details of consular reports. He indicated, however, that smashing of store windows, parading and speech-making had constituted the greater part of the outbreaks sweeping the Mexican states near the border. The rioters have not distinguished between Americans and other foreigners, it was stated, although the basis of the disorder is always the presence of American troops on Mexican soil. There are indications that officials here feel the defacto government itself is threatened by the spread of anti-foreign sentiment.

GASOLINE INQUIRY

Washington, June 13.—The federal trade commission continued today its investigation into the causes of the high prices of gasoline. It sought to develop whether the Standard Oil Company had endangered the existence of independent oil jobbers in Western states by fixing a low retail price for gasoline there, and at the same time paying refiners such high prices for their product that independent jobbers could not do business profitably.

Cincinnati, O., June 13.—One person was killed and three others seriously injured when an automobile collided with a motorcycle at Lewis Avenue and Lexington Pike, Covington, early today.

Rollin H. Tussey, of this city, was killed when he jumped from the automobile. Mrs. George Walker, owner of the car, and Jesse Breeden, chauffeur, both of this city, and an unknown woman who was riding on the motorcycle were removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington.

GIRL ACCUSES STEP-FATHER OF ASSAULTING HER

BIG SENSATION FOLLOWS EX-PREACHER'S ARREST

Acting upon a confession made by 17-year-old Nora Morgan, of No. 2336 Ninth street, Chief Clark, Tuesday afternoon, filed a charge against her stepfather, A. M. Durham, a Breece Manufacturing Company employee, of having criminally assaulted her.

The girl in the presence of five neighbor women, admitted to Chief Clark that Durham had been intimate with her since last August or just after he returned home after having lived for a year with her grandmother. She said he was accustomed to take advantage of her at every opportunity.

The girl is suffering with a complete nervous breakdown. She swooned away and remained unconscious for some time after Durham was arrested Tuesday morning on a disorderly charge for creating a scene when he was denied admission to the Harris home on Ninth street where the girl had sought refuge.

The physicians found no marks of violence upon her, as neighbors suggested. Instead she seemed to be suffering chiefly from shock. Both Durham and the girl in turn visited Police Chief Henry Clark at headquarters Monday evening, the former in answer to orders given him after he had created quite a scene near his

Dr. Edwards' Strength Tonic

This Tonic which Dr. Edwards recommends is designed to restore strength to the weak, strength to the muscles, strength to the mind and strength to the nerves.

It is given to restore to the blood that rich red color which every weak and run-down person must have before he can get well and strong.

That Natural Ruddy Color

Of good health is absent in cases of thin, weak and run-down patients. Their cheeks, lips and eyelids lack that normal blood tint, and the feeling of well being is not with them. Dr. Edwards' Strength Tonic restores the color to the blood, drives away that sickly greenish pallor of the complexion and supplies fuel for the vital fire in weak and thin people.

Nervous Patients

Dr. Edwards says patients are nervous because they do not have enough rich, red blood to feed the nerves. So he made this Tonic to give the blood just what it needs for that purpose.

Sugar Coated Tablets

Dr. Edwards has his Tonic put in a sugar coated tablet so it will be pleasant to take and will not injure the teeth. Pale, thin, weak and run-down people contract diseases more frequently than well ones. They are liable to have Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Bright's Disease, Nervous Dyspepsia, Insanity, Pervers and Consumption.

Don't Have These

Why not put yourself in shape not to have these diseases by letting Dr. Edwards' Strength Tonic help you out of your nervous and run-down condition? It will build you up right from the start by increasing your appetite, toning up the nervous system, enriching the blood and increasing your vital force. For sale by your druggist.

"The Hidden Gem," a drama in two acts, by Cardinal Wiseman.

Argument:

In the reign of the Emperor Innocent I, there lived on the Aventine a Roman patrician of great wealth, named Euphemianus. He had an only son, Alexius, whom he educated in principles of solid piety and in the practice of unbounded charity. When he was grown up, but still young, a divine command ordered the son to quit his father's house and lead the life of a poor pilgrim. He accordingly repaired to Edessa, where he lived for five years, during which time he was sought for in vain by his father all over the world. He was similarly ordered to return home, and was received as a stranger into his father's house. He remained there as many years as he had lived abroad amidst the scorn and ill-treatment of his own domestics until his death, when a voice, heard through all the churches in the city, proclaimed him a saint, and a paper, written by himself, revealed his history.

This is the story recorded in the church of St. Alexius, which still stands on the Aventine Hill in Rome, and is visited on his feast by crowds of his fellow-citizens.

"The Haunt of the Fairies," a short drama in three acts by Rev. Francis J. Finn, S. J.

Act I: Time—A few minutes before eight in the evening.

Place—The recreation room of the Holy Angels Convent.

Act II: Time—Eleven o'clock of the same night.

Place—The girls' play ground.

Act III: Time—Immediately following the close of Act II.

Place—The fairies' grove.

The story of the play: A hundred years ago band of men were caught in the present school-grove of the Holy Angels Convent engaged in the worship of Satan. They had been carrying on this worship for twenty years before they were discovered and broken up. From that day, every twenty years, the grove was haunted by fairies. Just before and just after the coming of the fairies the demon seemed to have dreadful power, causing purest and a worldly spirit among the larger girls of the school.

The spell would be broken when an innocent maid should break in upon the fairies' revel at midnight and disperse them at the cost of her life.

some of the larger girls are dissatisfied with the rules and regulations of the school, and one of them holds secret communications with a roaming gypsy and induces five others to leave the convent school. They steal away from the dormitory and meet the gypsy queen in the woods, have their fortunes told and decided to follow the gypsy's advice, when Agnes appears on the scene and pleads with them to remain. They heed her not but go on until they meet the fairy queen and the fairies, and are present at their revels. When they are about to

NEW BOSTON

William Canter, Gallia street, grocer, was able to resume work Tuesday after a day's illness.

The members of the school board, Tom York, Frank Taylor, John Noel, Charles Fiddler and Thurman Emory, Clerk Thomas O'Neal and Superintendent Dan E. Ross made preparations to go to Huntington, W. Va., as guests of Ritter and Eales, Portsmouth architects, who want to show the local board through the up-river city's schools. The local board wants to view a number of buildings before they decided on the style of the village's new $65,000 high school of about fourteen rooms and a large auditorium.

Members of the Mission Circle met Monday evening at the home of Miss Zelma Pollard, on Rhodes avenue and Center street, and after an hour of sewing enjoyed a social good time. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following: Margaret Truesdale, Blanche Henry, Estel Kallher, Edna Lawson, Emma Nourse, Zelma Pollard and Mrs. Harley Plack. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Truesdale.

Miss Golda O'Neal and Bryan Taylor are working as waitresses at Malabar's ice cream parlor in Millbrook park.

A large number of members of the J. O. U. A. M. attended the weekly session held Monday evening. One application for reinstatement was received. The members are making arrangements to take an active part in the joint memorial celebration to be held on June 25th by the lodges of the city.

Meetings at the Pentecostal tent in Lakeside continue with increased attendance each night. Sunday afternoon, in the Ohio river, Mrs. Anna Bussey, Henry Snyder, Lonnie Ward and George Carver were baptized by Revs. B. F. Craig and Joseph Graham. About ten more men and women will be baptized next Sunday.

George Reed, of Harrisonville avenue, has purchased a fine driving mare from George Monroe.

Contractor Asa Canter has completed a concrete floor for Hiram Hickman's garage. Alex Colburn will do the carpenter work on the garage.

George Reed, who recently sold his property on Cedar street and Harrisonville avenue to J. V. Thomas, has purchased a small farm on the West Side.

J. N. Holley, Harrisonville avenue grocer, has added several additions to his store. Will Stewart will do the carpenter work.

Complaints are still being made about the stagnant water on the Mayor J. S. Davis lots on the north side of Gallia street, just west of Center street. Mayor Davis intends to fill the lots soon.

Mason Roberts, who makes his home with Mrs. Jane Smith, on Cedar street, remains in a serious condition. He was dangerously cut in a fight with Will Stewart over two weeks ago.

Hiram Lickman, of Gallia street, who has ordered an automobile, has sold his fine driving mare to Mrs. Mary Odle, of Turkey Creek.

Jacob Benner is having two homes built on Cedar street.

Ike Wells, deputy marshal, starts on a ten days' vacation Wednesday. He will spend a few days in Chillicothe and later visit home folks near Stockdale.

Ike Wells, deputy marshal, who arrested Earl Atkins, Saturday night and later let him escape, says that Atkins was the first prisoner in three years he had trusted to walk in front of him. Atkins is still at large.

Frank Hall, Sr., of Wait's Station, visited his son, Martin Hall, of Ohio avenue, Monday.

Edward Zeek is painting the Zeek home on East Rhodes avenue.

The pouring of concrete base on the north side of Gallia street has reached Vine street.

Joseph Plack, who recently disposed of his property, will move to South Webster in the near future.

Ira Fenner and William Herrmann of Portsmouth, were calling on Charles Herrmann of the Glades, Sunday.

William Font and family were calling on James Jenkins and family Sunday.

Mrs. William Corbany of near London, Ohio, who was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jenkins, of Jenkinsville, returned home Thursday.

Jacob Pierce of Grahamsville, is erecting a fine new barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Riegel of Sand Ridge, were calling on Marion Keller and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lansing were calling on Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller and family recently.

Rev. Bostie preached to a large and attentive audience at the Glades Saturday night.

Elmer Shear who is employed at Urbana, Ohio, was calling on home folks Sunday.

John Fulton, who is doing carpenter work at Webster, was calling on home folks Saturday and Sunday.

George Karn was a Jackson visitor one day last week.

Another Of The Jordan Boys Says Father Admitted Murder

It was announced Tuesday by prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait that James Jordan, aged 13, son of Roy Jordan, who is charged with murdering his wife, Mrs. Pamela Jordan, Tuesday, May 2, confessed both before the grand jury and the attorneys for the defense that he had killed Mrs. Jordan. Only the principle fact of the lad's confession was made public by the state, following a conference between the attorneys for the defense, and Judge Thomas O. Beatty and the two Jordan boys, James and George, who are now confined at the Seato County Children's Home.

James stoutly maintains that his father informed them that he had killed their mother, Mrs. Pamela Jordan. The details of the story told by the boy were not made public.

The new confession promises to reveal many of the perplexing mysteries of the murder, according to Prosecutor Micklethwait. But these will be kept secret until the trial, which will be held commencing June 27.

Not only has the prosecution secured the confession of the lad and held it secret for some time but it has some evidence, it is said, which will introduce a woman into the case. The woman's role in the mystery is known only to those closely identified with the state's case.

The Jordan murder mystery has offered more perplexing phases to the officials than any other crime in the annals of Seato county. First the body of the woman was discovered at her home in the Flat Woods, near Lucasville, and for several hours, it was believed the crime was committed with a sharp instrument. Later in the afternoon it was found that a shot gun had been used.

Roy Jordan, the husband, was placed under arrest and brought to the city. The prisoner maintained his innocence and advanced two theories as to the probable cause of his wife's death: first that she had fallen and struck her head against the bed and second that she had "suffered pain in her head" which caused it to split.

A day later George, the eight year old son, confessed to the officials that his father had shot Mrs. Jordan with a shot gun. The lad related his story before several witnesses and so testified at the coroner's inquest.

Jordan was subsequently arraigned and pleaded not guilty. He was bound over to the grand jury without bond and was later indicted for murder in the first degree.

Then four days after the arrest of Jordan, George, the eight year old son, changed his story and claimed that he had accidentally shot his mother while playing with a shot gun.

The state obtained a confession from James, aged 13, and brought the lad before the grand jury where he related every detail of the crime as he claimed it happened. This evidence was held secret until Tuesday, when it was made known that the attorneys for the defense had secured a similar confession from James.

The case promises to be one of the most unique criminal mysteries ever tried in the local courts. Fine points in criminal law will be brought to bear in many instances by both sides. A special jury of thirty-six citizens has been selected. And it is expected that it will require at least two days to get a jury from those summoned.

The X-ray pictures and portraits of the head of Mrs. Pamela Jordan have been developed and completed by Virgil Fowler and submitted to the prosecuting attorney. The head was re-interred at the Lucasville cemetery several days ago by the authorities, after several physicians had examined the wounds and the photographs were taken.

Attorney Theo K. Pink and Attorney O'Neal, of Kentucky, will defend Jordan.

Turning Loose the Sunshine. "It's a dark day," some one said to Brother Williams, "a very dark, hopeless day." And then the old negro said:

"Hit's ez you look at it. But why don't you unlock de sunshine? Ain't you got some hid out round de house some'es—in some ole co'n'er what you den forget? Sit round? Sit round? an' let de sunshine loose! It's dars—in yo' house an' heart."

"Here, de dark day mourner said, 'here's a dollar for you, old man.' " "Bless God," Brother Williams said, "I knowed you'd turn loose de sunshine. Hit wuz in yo' pocket all de time!"—Atlanta Constitution.

The Flint Knappers. The Brandon Flint knappers claim to be engaged in Britain's oldest industry. There is evidence that Brandon was an active center of flint instrument making in neolithic times, and some of the families in the little Suffolk village are believed to be flint descendants of the prehistoric makers of stone axes and arrowheads. Brandon's chief concern nowadays is quilting, of which the town still exports some millions annually, most of them going to China, Africa and South America. London Mail.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, June 13.—Substantial concession from yesterday's high levels marked today's dull and cautious trading except in minor rails and isolated specialties. The market settled down to more normal conditions at today's opening, the excitement and breadth of yesterday's early operations being altogether lacking. Initial quotations were fractionally higher for the most part, although some issues notably Texas company, Long Island and Denver and Rio Grande preferred rose a point or more. Beet Sugar and air brake were again conspicuous among the specialties, the former advancing to the new record of 87 1/2. United States Steel, yesterday's leader, was barely steady, with pronounced heaviness in Mexican Petroleum. Medium or low priced rails became the foremost features later, Western Maryland common and preferred, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Lake Erie and Western and Wisconsin Central rising 1 to 4 points, with Denver and Long Island issues. The movement in certain of these stocks was attributed to definite causes, but otherwise the inquiry seemed to be chiefly speculative. Louisville and Nashville rose 2 1/2 to its best price in almost two years. Shipping shares, Mexican and other specialties, became more heavy at midday with pressure against steel, but beet sugar increased its gain. Bonds were steady. Mexicans, colliers and more representative issues were unsettled in the later trading with partial recoveries in the final dealings. The closing was irregular.

CHICAGO GRAIN

AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, June 13.—Strength developed in the wheat market today after an early decline that resulted from lower quotations at Liverpool and from favorable weather for the domestic crop. Opening prices which ranged from 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 lower with July at $1.02 1/4 to $1.02 3/4 and September at $1.04 1/4 to $1.04 3/4, were followed by an upturn to well above yesterday's finish.

The close was firm 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 net higher with July at $1.04 1/4 and Sept. at $1.06 to $1.06 1/4.

Corn swayed with wheat. The weather was against the bulls but selling was only of a scattered sort. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 lower, the market recovered the losses and scored some gains.

The close was strong at 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 net advance.

Commission house selling depressed oats. Little power to rebound was shown.

Provisions rose with hogs. The receipts at the yards here were less plentiful than expected.

Investments Bought from Resident Salesmen

The difference between a salesman who resides permanently in his own territory and one who travels from place to place, is purely a moral difference, upon which it would be impossible to place a value in dollars and cents. Yet there is a difference, and it is one which tends to strengthen the position of the investor who purchases preferred stock from a resident salesman as well as from the investment broker who markets securities through him.

For more than 12 years our preferred stocks have been marketed through resident salesmen, and the reason why these men (150 of them in all) stand so well among their friends and neighbors is because no one who acted on their advice has ever lost a dollar of principal or income on funds invested in our preferred stocks. At the same time, these gentlemen know more about us than any individual investor ever has time to find out. They remain loyal through thick and thin because their own funds are invested in securities we have recommended, and they know by experience what to expect from us in the way of protection.

If you have $100 or more to invest, or if you are a responsible person, who should be able to discuss investments and other matters intelligently, we will send you a copy of our 1916 "Portfolio of American Reports." It contains detailed information about 20 large manufacturing enterprises and much valuable information about preferred stocks. We will send you this publication without obligation or expense if you will send us your name and address on a post-card. Do so at once, before you forget.

GIRLS---DO YOU KNOW WHY YOUR HAIR IS UGLY?

If your hair is anything short of perfect—is losing color, too dry, wispy and difficult to arrange attractively, immediately begin the use of Parisian Sage. The first application removes all dandruff, cools and invigorates the scalp, and beautifies the hair until it is gloriously radiant.

Parisian Sage supplies all hair needs and does not injure either the hair or scalp. It contains the exact elements needed to make the hair soft and wavy, and to make it grow long, thick and beautiful. It is delicately perfumed—not sticky or greasy, and can be had at any drug or toilet counter. Parisian Sage acts instantly—one application stops itching head and freshens up the hair. You will be surprised and delighted with this helpful toilet necessity, for nothing else is so good for the hair and scalp, and nothing so quickly beautifies the hair, giving it that enviable charm and fascination. Parisian Sage is one of the quickest acting hair tonics known— inexpensive and easily used at home. Fisher & Strich sells lots of it and will guarantee it to you.

A Saturday night arrest that was just made public by the police officials Tuesday was that of Mrs. William Diltz, of No. 736 Eleventh street, for alleged conducting a disorderly house. A foreigner and a woman giving the name of Lizzie Murphy, claiming Vanceburg, Ky., as her home, were caught in the house, were used as witnesses against Mrs. Diltz, whom the mayor fined $50.

The Soul of a Nation. The Nelson monument, set among the lions at Trafalgar square; the tattered battleflags in the Church of St. Louis almost touching the tomb of Napoleon, the trophies of war treasured in public galleries in all great nations of the world, are not symbols of victories or of heroes and conquerors, but expressions of that unity of spirit which makes the soul of a nation. There is no true patriotism, no true love of country, without this unity of spirit. No true nation exists or can exist without it. It is a thing which money cannot buy or mere material wealth create.—George W. Alger in Atlantic Monthly.

"INSIDE" THUMB NAIL VIEWS OF AUTOMOBILE RACING

Carl O. Fisher, President, INDIANAPOLIS MOTOR SPEEDWAY.

WHY RACING CARS APPEAR FREAKISH

I HAVE often heard people remark about the freakish lines in the body construction of modern cars entered in Speedway races. Some people seem to think that these designs are solely for the purpose of attracting attention, that is, to make the car look different.

As a matter of fact, there is a definite scientific reason for their present prevalent shapes. It is to counteract or to minimize wind resistance. This is so important that the American Automobile Association, known as the "Three A's," which is the governing body for automobile sporting events, trailing in the wake of another. For example, the tremendous power which the motor must generate in order to turn the wheels and make speed—a large percentage of it is consumed in overcoming wind resistance.

If one driver will get his car in line right behind another car, he can stay within striking distance of this front car with less power exertion and less wear and tear on his car than the man in front of him, who is acting as a veritable buffer. Obviously this is unfair to the car in front.

The illustration at the bottom depicts one of the conditions which bring forward the skill of drivers at Indianapolis track. At both ends of the track there is a long curve, a semi-circle which is banked high at the outer edge. When a car makes this curve, if the driver can, he hugs the inside or the pole position. If he is driving at anything like average speed the very momentum or centrifugal force swerves his car outward or towards the outer end of the curve of the track, so by the time he is half way round the circle he is mounting the incline automatically, unless through skillful driving he has forced his mount to stay at the pole. Under normal conditions, by the time he has completed the semi-circle and is coming out of the curve into the straightaway, he is practically at the outer rim.

The laymen might think that the car coming out of the circle to the straightaway would be pointed straight (as indicated by the light lines on illustration below), but as a matter of fact, the rear end of the car is higher up on the curve than the front end. This illustrates one of the reasons why the driver element or the human equation is such a vital factor in speed contests in Indianapolis.

Upon this paved oval, two and one-half miles around, the spectators never see a monotonous procession, because cars change their position eight times in making the circuit of two and one-half miles, and do not get into a saucer where the driver element is reduced to zero.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR KITCHENER

London, June 13.—The memorial service to Field Marshal Kitchener, held in St. Paul's cathedral at noon today, was the greatest ceremonial of national mourning since that for the late King Edward VII. It was attended by three thousand persons, members of the Royal family, the cabinet, the diplomatic corps and high officers of the army and navy, together with many members of parliament and conspicuous figures from all branches of the nation's life. Nearly half of the congregation was representative of the army, all from the King in a field marshal's uniform, to privates, wearing khaki. King George, Queen Mary and Queen Mother Alexandra were conducted to their seats by the dean and chaplain of St. Paul's. The dean conducted the services. The Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London were among the clergy.

London, June 13.—Great crowds lined the streets today in the vicinity of St. Paul's cathedral and stood for hours in the rain, awaiting the arrival of King George, Queen Mary and Dowager Queen Alexandra for the memorial services for Field Marshal Earl Kitchener. The doors of the cathedral opened shortly after 10 o'clock and the vast building was rapidly filled with people who were fortunate enough to have tickets. Thousands of applicants for admission have been refused.

It was announced that the service would be practically divested of any military ceremonial. No troops lined the streets through which the royal party was to pass and there was no guard of honor.

A feature of the service was the part taken by the band of the Royal engineers and drummers of the Irish guard, of which Corps Lord Kitchener was honorary colonel.

The dead march was played by the band. In addition to the services in St. Paul's the memory of the dead soldier was honored by a ceremony in Westminster Abbey while a third service was held in Canterbury Cathedral.

Born in Same County. Police Chief Henry Clark was agreeably surprised the other day when he learned that Alfred Walker of the Walker Piano Co., No. 110 Court street, was not only a fellow Canadian but born in the same county where he too first saw the light of day. The chief never knew him but was acquainted with some of his people. It developed too that Mr. Walker had at one time worked for the chief's father.

Anson Perry Wishon

Anson Perry Wishon, familiarly known as "Pel" Wishon, who for many years was a resident of Carey's Run on the West Side, died at 1230 Tuesday morning at the family residence in the rear of the Fourth and Union streets school building. He had been ill since February with kidney trouble, but his condition did not become serious until ten days ago. Mr. Wishon had for years been engaged in contracting work and was one of the original pile driving contractors in this vicinity. He had done much public work in Scioto county. Mr. Wishon was 72 years old on last Christmas day. In addition to his wife, Mrs. Emma Ailshire Wishon, he leaves two sons, John and Charles, one brother, Henry Wishon of this city, and one sister, Mrs. W. R. Smith of McDermott.

Mr. Wishon in the early 60's enlisted with Company A of the 30th Regiment of Ohio, but he was injured on his way to fight for his flag and never took part in the Rebellion. During the past ten years he had been a well known resident of this city.

The funeral services will be conducted from the home at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon and interment will be in the Carey's Run cemetery on the West Side.

BRYAN'S ARTICLE

party councils it was only natural that his judgment should prevail. From the standpoint of Col. Roosevelt's personal fortunes his (Perkins) judgment was good from the standpoint of defeating President Wilson. Mr. Perkins' judgment was sound, the Progressives now see the menace of money in party management. Mr. Perkins put up, or secured, the money, while the Progressive masses furnishing nothing but the votes. When Col. Roosevelt was compelled to choose between men who stood for the money and the masses who stood only for the votes, it was "only natural," as Mr. White says, that "his (Perkins) judgment should prevail." Col. Roosevelt could not afford to be defeated against the candidate of one faction of the Republican party, and he is too partisan a Republican to assume responsibilities for re-electing a Democrat president whom he thought four years ago he could defeat.

It is different with the Progressive voters. Hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of them are nearer to the Democratic party than they are or ever will be to the Republican party. They appreciate the substantial reforms which have been secured by President Wilson and the Democratic senate and the house. They are not afraid to trust the president for four years more. They feel the same as Bainbridge Colby, the man who put Colonel Roosevelt in nomination before the Progressive convention at Chicago, who, since the convention, is quoted as saying "the Progressives propose to do a little thinking and leave the tantrums to others. Among other things they wish to do justice to a president who has been called upon to grapple with problems almost beyond human faculty, and who has endured the unflinching steadiness a volume of criticism which has no parallel in our history since Lincoln's time. If the president has stumbled, like Lincoln, it has been in the right directions."

And the Progressives have a genuine liking for the Progressive element in the Democratic party, an element which is overwhelmingly in the majority whenever an issue brings out a division, the president's attitude on reforms, the past years' steadfast devotion to reforms and the yearnings of the real progressives for a party that can be trusted to stand for reforms. These three factors combine to point the way to a Democratic victory. It is evident that many of the Democratic delegates appreciate the opportunity to see in it the road to success.

WILSON ADDRESS

Extracts From Wilson's Address

Following are some extracts from President Wilson's speech, which was lengthy:

"I look upon this body of men who are graduating to day, with a peculiar interest. I feel like congratulating them that they are living in a day not only so interesting, because fraught with change, but also because so responsible.

In your case there are many extraordinary possibilities, because gentlemen, no man can certainly tell you what the immediate future is going to be either in the history of this country or in the history of the world. It is not by accident that the present great war came in Europe. Every element was there and the contest had to come sooner or later, and it is not going to be by accident that the results are worked out, but by purpose—by the purpose of the men who are strong enough to have guiding minds and indomitable wills when the time for decision and settlement to come.

"And the part that the United States is to play has this distinction—that it is to be in any event a disinterested party. There is nothing that the United States wants that it has to get by war, but there are a great many things that the United States has to do. It has to see that its life is not interfered with by anybody else who wants something.

Impetuous Duty To Be Prepared
"These are the days when we are making preparation, and, undoubtedly, gentlemen, it is the present imperative duty of America to be prepared.

"But we ought to know what we are preparing for. America, fortunately does know what she wants to do with her force. We are not in for anything selfish and the whole mighty power of America is thrown into that scale and not into any other.

"You know that the chief thing that is holding many people back from enthusiasm for what is called preparedness is the fear of militarism. I want to say a word to you young gentlemen about militarism. You're not a militarist because you are military. Militarism does not consist in the existence of an army, not even in the existence of a very great army. Militarism is a spirit. It is a point of view. It is a system. It is a purpose. The purpose of militarism is to have armies for aggression. The spirit of militarism is the opposite of civilian spirit—the citizen spirit. In a country where militarism prevails, the military man looks down upon the civilian, regards him as inferior, thinks of him as intended for his, the military man's support and use, and just so long as America is America that spirit and point of view is impossible with us. There is as yet in this country so far as I can discover, no taint of the spirit of militarism.

Put American Principles First

"We have talked a great deal about Americanism. It ought to be a matter of pride with us to know what Americanism really consists in. Americanism consists in utterly believing in the principles of America and putting them first as above anything that might by chance come into competition with it. And I for my part, believe that the American test is a spiritual test. If a man has to make excuses for what he has done as an American, I doubt his Americanism. He ought to know at every step of his action that the motive that lies behind what he does is a motive which no American need be ashamed of for a moment. Now we ought to put this test to every man we know. We ought to let it be known that nobody who does not put America first can consort with us. But we ought to set down the example. We ought to set them the example by thinking American thoughts, and those thoughts and purposes will stand the test of example anywhere in the world, for they are intended for the betterment of mankind.

All Stand Together In American Spirit

"So I have come to say these few words to you today for a double purpose: first of all to express my personal interest in you, and second of all to remind you how we must all stand together in one spirit as lovers and servants of America. And that means something more than lovers and servants merely of the United States. You have heard of the Monroe Doctrine, gentlemen. You know that we are already spiritual partners with both continents of this hemisphere and that America means something which is bigger even than the United States and that we stand here with the glorious hour of this country ready to swing it out into the field of action whenever liberty and independence and peace and integrity are threatened.

"And we are ready—nobody has authorized me to say this, but I am sure of it—we are ready to join with the other nations of the world in seeing that the kind of justice prevails anywhere that we believe in.

"I am an American but I do not believe that any of us loves a blustering nationality, a nationality with a chip on its shoulder, a nationality with its elbows out and its swagger on. We love that quiet, self-respecting, unconquerable spirit which does not strike until it is necessary to strike and then strikes to conquer. Never since I was a youngster have I been afraid of the noisy man. I have always been afraid of the still man. I have always been afraid of the quiet man."

KENTUCKY DELEGATES IN WRECK

Owensboro, Ky., June 13.—Nursing many bruises, the Kentucky delegation to the Democratic National Convention left here early today for St. Louis after a section of the train on which its members were traveling had been wrecked in the Owensboro yards of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railroad. Mayor John H. Buschmeyer, of Louisville, was the most seriously injured. He, however, did not require the services of a physician. The third sleeping car from the rear was derailed by a split switch. The two sleepers following also left the rails. The rear car sidetracked a box car and turned over.

Governor A. O. Stanley, Lieutenant Governor James B. McCreary, General W. B. Haldeman, National Committeeman from Kentucky, were in the car immediately in front of that which was overturned. They escaped with minor bruises.

After a delay of two hours the wreck was cleared away and the delegation continued the journey to St. Louis in the day coaches.

The Medal of Honor.
A military decoration more difficult to earn, or at least far more sparingly awarded than the emblem of the Legion of Honor, the Victoria cross or the Iron cross, is the medal of honor, which is the proud possession of a few American soldiers. The highest decorations that European governments bestow for exceptional valor may all be won in the ordinary course of duty, but the wearer of our medal of honor must have distinguished himself conspicuously "for gallantry and intrepidity above his comrades—service that involved extreme jeopardy of life or the performance of extraordinarily hazardous duty."—Exchange.

RUSSIANS ARE TURNED BACK CLAIM THE AUSTRIANS

Berlin, June 13.—(Wireless to Sayville)—German and Austro-Hungarian troops delivered a heavy counter attack on Russian forces advancing in Northeastern Bukovina and drove them back, the official Austrian statement of June 12 says. The Austrians captured 1,300 Russians.

Reading the Bible.
To read the Bible through at the rate of a chapter a day would require three years and three months.

AUSTRIANS USE NEW STYLE PERISCOPE IN FRENCH TRENCHES

The picture shows a "reflecting" periscope in use by the Austrians, who have just taken possession of their trenches in northern France and Flanders. This periscope is set at the back of the trench instead of at the front, as is the case with other styles.

In the picture the backs of the men are toward the enemy, whom they are observing in the little mirror. Note that the Austrians have been furnished with the steel "trench" helmet, which practically all of the belligerents now wear as a protection against bursting shrapnel.

FIGHTING ON EAST BANKS OF MEUSE IS DESCRIBED AS INFERNAL BY EYE WITNESS

Paris, June 13.—The battle for Verdun has broken out with unusual violence on the east bank of the Meuse, after the fall following the capture of Fort Vaux. The Germans put the full to good use. They brought up fresh effectives, reformed their lines and advanced their artillery to positions from which they have begun a methodical pounding of the main French defenses, especially the powerful batteries at Tavanues and Fort Souville. At the same time the French advanced line, which was plastered with shells all day Sunday, has been subjected to a series of fierce onslaughts at Thiaumont farm, the position on which the line pivots.

The French on their part have not been idle during the past few days. Thiaumont farm battles with well placed machine guns and the German masses, tolling up the slope which leads to the French positions, have been driven back again and again, while their reserves have been kept copiously showered by sprays of shells from the French other batteries at the rear and on the other side of the river.

"The fighting continues as desperately as ever, but the situation on both sides is unchanged so far.

The fighting is characterized by eye-witnesses as infernal. It is estimated that the Germans used up 30,000 infantry in assaults on the trenches west of Fort Vaux and at Thiaumont. The attacks followed each other in such close succession as practically to merge one in the other.

MORE TROOPS ARE MOBILIZED FOR THE BORDER SERVICE

Washington, June 13.—Fifty hundred additional troops were being mobilized today for Mexican service in view of continued reports of anti-American demonstrations in Mexico and bandit raids on Texan territory. Ten companies of coast artillery drawn from fortifications between Portland, Maine, and Sandy Hook, and a battalion of engineers from the barracks in Washington were under orders to join General Pershing's army and assist in guarding against further border raids in the region near Laredo.

Assistant Secretary of War Ingraham in the absence of Secretary Baker, faced a situation which officials admitted appeared serious. They feared not only continuance of the bandit raids but the effect the killing of three bandits who raided the Coleman ranch near Laredo, Sunday, might have on the Mexican people. Equally puzzling to officials was the question of what purpose is the basis for the anti-American demonstrations and the renewed border attacks.

Reports persisted that certain Carranza officers have agreed not to interfere with the Mexican general, De La Rosa, in his threatened attack on border communities. In this connection was cited the report that one of the bandits killed after the Sunday raid had been identified as Lieutenant Colonel Villareal, a Carranza officer. Even civil authorities of northern Mexican states are said to be relaxing their strict allegiance to Carranza government and issuing orders independent of the Mexico City officials.

Canton, O., June 13.—The $10,500 verdict for Mrs. Ellen W. Canine, Indianapolis, trained nurse, against the estate of the late Robert R. Jacob, former Waynesburg and Pittsburg merchant for breach of promise to marry has been upheld and Common Pleas Judge W. P. Stephenson, of West Union, today notified Canton counsel in the case that he had overruled a motion for a new trial of the case.

Attorney Wendell Herbruck of the counsel for the Jacob estate, said today after learning of Judge Stephenson's action that the case would be carried to the court of appeals.

Mrs. Canine sued for $50,000, declaring that she had been induced by Jacob to live with him as his common-law wife after he had promised to marry her. Jacob died within a week after the close of the trial.

Marshall Appears The Favorite For Nomination; Baker Refuses To Enter The Race In Opposition

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—Delegates to the Democratic National convention, which opens here at noon tomorrow, appeared to be interested in two questions today. One was whether Vice President Marshall would be re-nominated or whether the favorite sons would insist upon their names going before the convention for a ballot.

The other was the probable action of the delegates with regard to the demand of the suffragists for an unequivocal declaration in the platform in favor of equal rights.

Sentiment for the re-nomination of Vice President Marshall appeared so strong today leaders said, that there was talk among them of starting a movement to have him named without going through the formality of taking a ballot. The talk of naming Secretary of War Baker for the second place on the ticket ended almost as suddenly as it started.

The war secretary had much to do with putting the question to rest, he declared before he left Washington for the convention city that he was for Marshall and that the mention of his name was merely "friendly enterprise."

The fact that Mr. Baker had just left President Wilson when he announced that he favored Mr. Marshall for re-nomination also gave support to the idea of having Mr. Marshall acclaimed the candidate without calling the roll. It was said that Governor John P. Moorehead, of Nebraska, may withdraw his name as a candidate for vice president.

Indiana Important Battle Ground

Early today it was reported here that President Wilson had sent word to St. Louis that he regarded Indiana as one of the most important battle grounds of the coming campaign and that he would be pleased to see delegates act as a unit in re-nominating the vice president. Suffragists who came here from Chicago where they were compelled to accept what they consider a compromise plank in the Republican platform or suffer complete defeat, are prepared today to continue their fight for a straight out declaration for votes for women. The suffragists are divided into two groups, one representing the National American Woman Suffrage Association and another women's party which was organized last week in Chicago by members of the congressional association. The latter organization is not disposed to compromise. Its leaders are prepared to make a strong fight for a federal constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote in all the states.

What action the resolutions committee will take leaders of the Democracy hesitate to forecast, but there are some among them who believe the Democrats will go at least as far as the Republicans who declared their belief in the principle of equal suffrage but asserted that it was for the states to decide whether women should have the right to vote.

Opposing Woman's Equal Rights

Representatives of the National Association opposed to the woman suffrage wearing red roses are here to combat the efforts of the supporters of equal rights. They claim they won a victory when they appeared before the Republican resolutions committee in Chicago.

The majority of the 1,092 delegates to the convention are due today and the hotel district of St. Louis became more animated as hundreds made their appearance, some of the delegations marching to their quarters behind brass bands. Aside from welcoming the arriving delegates, much of the day was given over to the holding of caucuses for the election of committee assignments. More than half of the state delegations planned to hold their state meetings today and tonight. In many cases the selections have been made and the caucuses were mere formalities.

Democratic leaders looked forward with interest to the arrival today of Secretary of War Baker and Wm. J. Bryan. Mr. Baker is due here late in the afternoon. He will be the personal representative of President Wilson and is expected to bring the last word from the president. Report has it that the Secretary of War has with him the final drafts of the planks in which President Wilson is most interested and will convey the wishes of Mr. Wilson to Senator Stone who will be chairman of the resolutions committee and others before the platform is prepared for the convention.

Bryan May Appear To Urge Planks

With the coming of Mr. Bryan speculation increased among delegates as to whether he will appear before the resolutions committee and advocate a preparedness plank along the lines of his often expressed views and whether he will urge the committee to adopt some sort of a declaration on the liquor question.

Whether the resolutions committee will hold a public hearing to receive suggestions for planks to be inserted in the platform has not yet been determined. The suffragists desire such a hearing. Labor leaders representing the American Federation of Labor who are here with fourteen planks similar to those presented to the Republicans last week, also want a hearing, as do certain societies interested in immigration and associations favoring the extension of civil service among government employes.

Among others expected to appear before the committee are Rear Admirals Hugo Osterhaus and Richard Wainwright, retired, with a delegation from the navy league. They will present the views of the league as to the enlargement of the navy.

Senator Stone, former Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, who will also be a member of the resolutions committee and several other leaders continued the consideration of platform matters today. The committee will be named tomorrow. It will immediately organize, and according to present indications, the platform will be completed Wednesday night. No report will be made to the convention until Friday morning, however.

Tickets Are All Distributed

Demands for tickets to the Coliseum continued to grow today, but there were none to be had by the late comers as the appropriation of seats has already been made. The management of the Coliseum last night locked out 120 workmen and all representatives of the national committee for three hours and re-admitted the workmen only after the national committee had agreed to give the Coliseum managers four boxes containing 22 seats. Several days ago the attention of the national committee was called to a clause in the agreement with the management of the Coliseum which had not been noticed at the time of signing. This clause the Coliseum managers said, required that any one renting the building must give to the managers the use of four boxes.

CAN'T LOSE HAIR

Twenty Years From Today a Bald-headed Man Will Be An Unusual Sight.

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press.

He said: "If the new hair grower, Miltredina Hair Remedy, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within eight years."

"When Miltredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years from now a bald head will be a rarity." Sample sent for 10c to pay postage. Mail orders filled by Miltredina Co., Boston, Mass.

Scioto Lodge No. 31 I. O. O. F. at its meeting Monday night, conferred the first degree upon three candidates. They will be given the Degree of Friendship next Monday night.

Boy Scout Encampment And Conference Will Open On Thursday At Lucasville

The Boy Scout Encampment and Conference for the scouts of Scioto and Pike counties opens on Thursday evening, in Lucasville. Tents will be provided for the accommodation of over a hundred boys, and the Lucasville scout organization will spare no pains in making the stay of the visitors one never to be forgotten.

The opening session is Thursday evening when a Citizens Rally will be held in the town hall, presided over by Cecil Tidd, president of the County Scout association. Two splendid addresses have been arranged for the occasion, the first to be delivered by one of the best friends of the scouts of Scioto county have, Rev. E. G. Hamilton, pastor of the Grandview Christian church, and a member of the local council of Boy Scouts. Rev. Hamilton will speak from the topic: "The Scout Movement, a Community Asset." The second speaker of the evening will be Howard Lawry, one of the best boy orators in this section, and the one who won in the high school oratorical contest at Ironton. Lawry's subject will be: "The Three-Fold Development of the Boy Scout."

Friday morning, and breakfast camp grounds. Then comes the big event of the conference: the cup debate between John Snively of Troop 1, Portsmouth and Lorenz Schmitt, of Stockdale. The subject for debate will be: "Resolved, That the Army and Navy Materially Increased." Snively will argue the affirmative side and Schmitt the negative. The judges will be Joseph Brant, Prof. Alley and Arthur Monilton. The winner of this debate will then debate the Troop 2 team at a later date, at which time cup honors for 1916 will be decided.

Saturday will be Athletic Day, and at 5:00 a. m., an early morning hike will be taken to Flatwoods, and return for breakfast. At 8:30 a Boy Scout League game will be played between the Tigers and the East End. In the afternoon at 2:00 p. m., Lucasville will meet Portsmouth in a ball game, followed by another Boy Scout league game between the Kendall Avenues and the Athletics.

Any scout in good standing is privileged to attend by notifying scout headquarters, and arrangements will be made to furnish such any one with tent accommodations.

The conference and encampment will be a great event, and the greater share of the credit for success will be due Claude Brant, the efficient Lucasville scoutmaster, who has worked hard for several weeks preparing for it.

Several district declarations of candidacy were filed with James K. Distel, clerk of the board of election, Tuesday. There are a few others to be filed before the tickets are complete.

Those filing their declarations Tuesday were: D. Q. Morrow, Hillsboro, Highland county, candidate for Republican state central committee from the Sixth district; William R. Middleton, Waverly, Pike county, Republican candidate for judge of the fourth appellate district to succeed Matthew B. Merriman, court of appeals; George A. Schausel, Waverly, Pike county, Democratic candidate for state senator; E. B. Stivers, Brown county, Democratic candidate for representative to congress; William A. Ryker, Georgetown, Democratic candidate for state central committee; Will P. Haynes, Jackson county, Democratic candidate for state senator; Matthew R. Merriman, Gallipolis, Democratic candidate for judge, fourth district of court of appeals.

STOMACH GETS THE BLAME, BUT THE LIVER IS THE CAUSE

A Wineglassful of Tollo Water Will Make the Liver Act Freely and Relieve Your Stomach in Thirty Minutes.

Most cases of stomach trouble are caused by a clogged liver. It does no good to dose the stomach with drugs when the real cause is not removed.

When the bile tubes of the liver are clogged the bile is forced back into the stomach and even into the blood, causing stomach trouble, gas, heartburn, headaches, coated tongue, sallow complexion.

An occasional Tollo Water liver bath will remove all these symptoms in thirty minutes. It will clean out the bile tubes, flush the waste out of your system and give your stomach a fresh, clean start.

Tollo Water is found at Dawson Springs, a famous Kentucky health resort, and has the property of dissolving the obstructions in the bile tubes and stimulating the action of the liver and bowels.

Clean your liver tomorrow with a Tollo Water liver bath. It will remove all waste matter and you will be surprised and pleased at its quick results. Your stomach trouble will disappear and you will be able to eat what you like and enjoy it.

Get a 15-cent bottle from your druggist. Take a little before breakfast in a glass of drinking water. In thirty minutes it will make you feel better than you have in weeks.

Hagerstown Gets Next Year's System Meeting Of O. R. C.

At the executive session of the Order of Railway Conductors System Meeting Association, held in Ben Hur hall Monday afternoon by about sixty conductors, it was decided to hold the 1917 system meeting of the O. R. C. and Ladies Auxiliary of the N. & W. system in Hagerstown, Md. Bluefield, W. Va., and Bristol, Tenn., were also nominated as meeting places.

Following are the officers of the Association as elected: Chairman, J. A. Crowe, of Hagerstown; Vice Chairman, C. C. Horn, Roanoke, Va.; Secretary, B. B. Bender, Hagerstown; Sergeant-at-Arms, E. C. Davis, Portsmouth; Guard, J. H. Griffith, Hagerstown; Members of Executive Committee, W. A. Martin, Roanoke; E. R. Wilkerson, Portsmouth; G. I. Smith, Bluefield; J. M. Catron, Bristol; J. M. Cox, Crewe, Va.

A raising meeting was held, several members making short talks for the good of the order. Chairman, C. C. Horn, who has worked hard to make this convention a big success, made a few remarks on the eight hour plan for railroads.

The pleasures of the evening included dancing and refreshments. Everybody enjoyed the dances which were the old-fashioned square dances, nothing else being allowed. An old fashioned dance orchestra of mandolin, banjo and two fiddles furnished the music.

Edward H. Brinslow, of Bellefontaine. The committee will make an expenditure of between $150 and $200 in the matter entrusted to them.

THE NEWEST REMEDY FOR BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM AND DROPSY

Kidney, Bladder and Uric Acid troubles bring misery to many. When the kidneys are weak or diseased, these natural filters do not cleanse the blood sufficiently, and the poisons are carried to all parts of the body. There follow depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness and rheumatism. In some people there are sharp pains in the back and loins, distressing bladder disorders and sometimes obstinate dropsy. The uric acid sometimes forms into gravel or kidney stones. When the uric acid affects the muscles and joints, it causes lumbago, rheumatism, gout or sciatica. Write Dr. Pierce at once, send 10 cents for large trial package, or 50 cents for full treatment of "Anuria" or ask your druggist for it.

FOUR BANDS ARE SECURED FOR "SHOEMAKERS DAY"

PARADE WILL FORM AT DAILY TIMES CORNER, LINE-UPS ANNOUNCED

Talk about your music at the republican national convention! The delegates probably heard some music as it chortled through silver cornets or brass tubas, but what they heard was only a patch in the music that will be made in Portsmouth, next Saturday afternoon, June 17 as the parade starts for Millbrook Park where "Shoemakers Day" will be fittingly and properly observed. Aye, my friends, there will be more music to the square inch in Portsmouth next Saturday than at all the national conventions, O. O. P. Bull Moose, Democratic, etc.

Four brass bands, and they'll be named instantly: "River City, Portsmouth, Jr. Order United American Mechanics and 'Cluck' Westphal's Tack Blowers," will form in line in front of The Daily Times office at 1 o'clock p. m. next Saturday, preliminary to forming the grand parade that will start soon thereafter, for Millbrook Park.

Unless several police officers are stationed within easy reaching distance, it is feared a regular riot will result.

As soon as the bunch of noise-makers reach beautiful Mill Brook Park the fun will begin. At a meeting of the big committee held at the First National Bank building, last night, it was decided to recruit two teams, composed of players who saw service in the Saturday Afternoon League. In order to do this it was found necessary to call on the "Irving Drew." The Selby-Ex-team the "Selby-Excellor" and the other selector team will line up as follows: Bob Padan, c; "Buck" Yeager, p; (archie and rhubarb all having put his soup-bone in 1915 condition), Joe Brennan, ss; James Bauman, 1b; Joe Barber, 3b; Brooks Gowdy, 2b; (not Hank of Boston); Homer Selby, 1f; Eddie Brennan, cf; Earl Reinhard, rf; George Reinhard and Pat Flowers, extras.

The Irving Drew team will present the following appearance: Edgar Thomson, c; John (Punk) Doherty, p; Will Doherty, ss; Jack Hartlage, 3b; Cotton Shuler, 2b; Jake Bassler, 1b; Gene Crighton, rf; Clyde Banfield, cf; Walter Blitzer, rf; (providing he can buy, borrow or steal a uniform of sufficient size); Frank Ray, Billy Stenshorn, extras.

Umpires, Dan W. Conroy and "Doc" Severs.

The committee meeting last night was enthusiastic from beginning to end. Every fellow present is heart and soul in the movement to make "Shoemakers Day" the biggest event of its kind ever held in this section of the good old U. S. A. All boys and girls under 16 years of age will be admitted free of charge—the only request being that the boys hunt out the bleachers or gather along the left foot line. The boys, of course, will be too gallant to occupy the seats.

CHAMPS HOME TOMORROW, 12 GAMES IN MILLBROOK

In the grand stand—anyhow, the real fans—those who are coming on—would not give a picayune to sit in the grand stand when there is room on the bleachers or on the field.

Upwards of 2000 tickets, were distributed by the committee last night and they went with a rush Tuesday morning. It is planned to sell 3000 tickets if possible, for judging from the interest shown every shoemaker, his wife and sweetheart will be present. The tickets will sell at 25 cents each, and no extra charge made for the grand stand. The only reservation made will be the first row and probably two rows of seats in the center of the big grand stand. These will be reserved for the factory owners and their families as well as those regulars who never miss a game and who spoke for their seats at the opening of the season.

At the conclusion of the "Shoemakers' Day," the Portsmouth team of the Ohio State League and the Mayville Buryl Cubs will stage a regular nine inning game. This schedule shows the Mayville team will be here and not the Old Taylors of Frankfort. If possible Winfield French will pitch the game, for Mayville. He is a clown, but some pitcher at that.

The committee having in charge the preparation of the program and the sale of tickets is as follows:

Selby Shoe Co.—Theo. Branham, Earl Reinhard, "Buddy" Dauer, Homer Selby, Mark W. Selby.

Excelsior Shoe Co.—John E. Williams, "Buck" Yeager, Russell Egbert, Bob Padan, James Bauman.

Excelsior Shoe Co.—Louis T. Spencer, Gene Crighton, Billy Stenshorn, Jack Hartlage, Wm. E. Clayton.

Make all arrangements to be at the park next Saturday afternoon. Five or six hours of solid enjoyment, consisting of comedy, science, put outs, errors, hits, fouls, bases on balls, hit by pitcher, cracked arms, fiery, shell, boneheads, victory and defeat—yes and music galore. Only 25 cents.

OTTO KNABE.

Chicago, June 12.—Otto Knabe at last seems fixed for the summer. He has been signed by Joe Tinker to play second base for the Cubs. Knabe once starred with the Philadelphia Nationals and last year was manager of the Baltimore Federals. This year he signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates but was recently given his unconditional release when Jimmy Fox got back into shape.

Tinker declared that he had watched Knabe's playing this year and that the veteran was certainly entitled to a chance to show his wares. "Knabe is still there as a major leaguer and I expect him to prove that pretty conclusively," said Tinker.

The Champs will be home Wednesday for one of their longest stays at home during the season, the team to play 12 straight games in a row in Millbrook. The games are as follows:

Mayville, June 14, 15, 16, 17.

Frankfort, June 18, 19, 20, 21.

Charleston, June 22, 23, 24, 25.

The Champs are in fine shape and if they win a majority of these games it is almost a cinch that they will win the first flag.

The season is well under way, all the clubs are playing bang up ball, and these 12 games in Millbrook should attract splendid crowds. Frankfort and Charleston will be seen on Sunday during this series.

Fine Road Team

The Champs have now played seven games on their present trip and five of them have been victories. Two games were won in Frankfort and three straight have been taken from the Buryls with one more game to play in Huntington. The team has certainly been a great road club this year.

THIRD STRAIGHT IS TAKEN FROM FAST HUNTINGTON CLUB

(BY JACK YATES)

Huntington, W. Va., June 13.

ANAGERS Midkiff and Spencer changed their hats about as often yesterday as the teams changed sides, six pitchers having graced the mound before the last out was recorded. The batters were not pounding the pellet with any consistency but wildness was the usual failing of the twirlers who fell by the wayside. Portsmouth used more pitchers than Huntington. Spencer sent four different men to the hillock. None showed anything remarkable. Gaffin started for Huntington and though he did not hold the reins more than one inning, he allowed three runs and three hits. King, who had pitched a great game on Sunday after he succeeded Delott, came back again yesterday and went the eight rounds. He deserved to win but his teammates were unable to connect at opportune times. The final score of the game was five to four.

Manager Spencer's string was Reeb, A. King, Sabaskus and Dilts. The latter is an outfielder by trade, but he had something in the last inning against Our Boys. After having walked one man he, closed and the next three went out in order. Dilly was as pleased as a baby over his showing.

Through Gaffin's wildness the visitors scored one in the first inning. Bush walked and Bauer sacrificed. Dilts doubled and Bush scored. McHenry fled to Schmeer and Dilly advanced. Dilhofer walked and stole second. Spencer was out on a long foul to Schmeer. The latter made a great catch.

In the second inning the Chumps came across with two more. Gaffin could not find the platter and Demoe walked. Jacobus laid down a bunt. He was safe. This put two on and none out. Old Salt Rock called a bait. Gaffin went to the bench and King walked to the rubber. He was given an ovation. Reeb fanned. King hit Bush. This crumpled the sneaks. Bauer singled. Demoe and Jacobus scored. Dilts struck out.

Huntington tied it up in the fourth one to Jacobus. McDaniel was away the plate before the ball reached there. King went out, Bush to Spencer. Huntington was easy in the last inning.

INAUGURAL HANDICAP TO BE CLASSY EVENT

Ed Crump, winner of the $10,000 Kentucky handicap, Dodge, John Gind, Hancock, Embroidery, Hank O'Day, Dunbar, Lady Rella, Royal L., Vaters, blossom, Star Jasmine, Prince Heunis and Water Witch are among the probable starters for the $2,000 inaugural handicap, the opening feature of Lexington's 23-day race meeting that begins Wednesday.

Prince Heunis won the race last year from Buck Toney and Star Jasmine. The field this year is the classiest that has ever contested for the prize.

Queer Play Is Made

An odd play came up in a Millbrook game one day last week. An outfielder got an assist on a strike-out. The batter swung at the third one, the catcher let it go by. The batter hesitated about running to first and the catcher threw to that base.

It was a wild throw and the right fielder, back up, got the ball and fired it back to first before the stupid base runner could reach the bag. Davis of Millbrook was the stupid base runner. Mills was the catcher who made the wild throw, Kaylor the right fielder who recovered the ball and Druggan the first baseman who made the unusual play.

Mills was a Portsmouth uniform last year until he broke his left leg sliding into the home plate in Lexington.

SINGLETON TO JOIN LOCAL TEAM

Outfielder Singleton, who made a great record in college baseball this season, is slated to join the Champs Wednesday or Thursday. He has been attending school at Buckhannon, W. Va., with Pitcher Test of the local team.

Two Teams Are Coming

The wisecracks in the American league are contending that the White Sox and Detroit Tigers have rounded to form and should be watched carefully the rest of the way. The Tigers are in position to jump into first place in the Johnson organization should they keep up their good work of the past two weeks.

Ed. Walsh To "Come Back"

Chicago, June 12.—"Big Ed" Walsh, the veteran pitcher of the Chicago Americans will oppose Walter Johnson of Washington in today's game, it being Walsh's first appearance this season. He believes he has regained his old time form.

Eddie Plank Is "Gay Kid"

New York, June 12.—Eddie Plank refuses to be counted out. He scoffs at the idea that he won't amount to much this season, and confounds his critics by the assertion that he expects to keep on pitching in the majors until he is 40 years old. According to all that is known, the hero of ninety-six will stick around another five years.

Spiders Issue Challenge

Carl Monk, who has reorganized the Spiders, who were generally conceded to be the best amateur baseball team in Portsmouth last season, is out with a challenge to any team in Portsmouth and surrounding towns.

Reds Have Not Played Game Since Last Tuesday

Boston, Mass., June 13.—For the fifth gathered, the wind came and also the day in succession (Sunday excepted), rain, a downpour that disposed of the sun has prevented the Cincinnati Reds from playing baseball. Monday morning the sun was shining, but about one o'clock yesterday afternoon clouds came series with the Brooklyn.

You may often go into a show, And see a wonderful play; But you can go to your cigar stand every day And get the best—the R. & J.

Good Crowd At The Game

Huntington, W. Va., June 13.—It was a good Monday crowd. Two hundred fans walked through the turnstile. When Huntington tied the score the rooting was intense. Some of the Portsmouth fans stayed over for the Monday matinee. They kept up a running fire of wit with the local fans. The western section of the stands was a regular bedlam.

Kilbane To Stay Home

Cleveland, June 12.—Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight, has about decided to decline an offer to join the Yankee boys traveling to Buenos Aires just because he would rather stay home with his children. He was offered $7,000 to make the trip and take part in a battle in the Argentine capital, but doesn't believe he can take his family along and doesn't want to leave them.

Kilbane Vs. Johnnie O'Leary

During the season of 1915 and 1916 Brooklyn has defeated Philadelphia twenty-four out of thirty-one games. If all the clubs were similarly successful against the Phillies what a poor lot they would be.

Saw Games

Kemper Shelton, star outfielder of the Huntington team, who, three weeks ago, broke a leg in making a slide, witnessed Sunday's double header from the grand stand. It will be four weeks before he will get back into the game.

House Peters and Barbara Tennant in "The Closed Road" At the Lyric Tomorrow.

One of the most fascinating and inspiring photoplays which have ever been produced will be shown as a feature attraction at the Lyric theatre tomorrow when the World Film production in five big parts, "The Closed Road," will be shown on the screen. This picture was directed by Maurice Tourneur, whose pictures, "Scandalous" and "Tribby," were heralded by the press the country over as the most technically correct pictures ever reviewed. House Peters and Barbara Tennant are starred in this great production, and with a cast second to none in strength, Mr. Tourneur and Mr. Peters have turned out a picture that will long remain as the acme of perfection as far as dramatic photoplays are concerned. If you appreciate a real interesting and startling original photodrama, be sure to see "The Closed Road" at the Lyric tomorrow.

Grace Elliston in "The Black Fear" Columbia Tonight.

"Black Fear," the wonderful five part feature, produced by the Rolfe Photoplays, Inc., for release on the Metro program, will be seen at the Columbia tonight. In this elaborate production, which teems with thrilling moments and big scenes, there is an all-star cast which includes the distinguished dramatic actress, Grace Elliston, Edward Brennan and Grace Valentine, John Tansy, and other prominent artists of the stage and screen. Miss Elliston, who is widely known as the creator of the leading feminine role in "The Lion and the Mouse" and other stage successes, makes her screen debut in this production.

The story of "Black Fear" deals with the vital subject of the increasing use of cocaine, especially in New York city, where it is a growing menace. Its use and effect, and the manner in which Marguerite Clark in "Molly Make-Believe" At Lyric Tonight.

Marguerite Clark, the dainty little Famous Players star, who has been seen recently in "Mice and Men" and "Out of the Drifts," will appear at the Lyric tonight in an adaptation of the universally popular magazine story and book, "Molly Make-Believe," which has just been converted into a Paramount picture. Appearing first in one of the big national magazines, "Molly Make-Believe" won instant popularity and was later printed in book form. In this second form it won new laurels and became one of the most widely distributed gift books in circulation. The tremendous popularity of Miss Clark and the widespread interest in Eleanor Mollweil Abbott's book make this a notable production.

Though the story is essentially romantic and comic in its main theme, there are some remarkably touching pathetic scenes and powerful dramatic incidents which combine to make "Molly Make-Believe" an exceptional photoplay. Shows will start at 6:30. Then about every hour. The admission is 10 cents for all.

At Tao Exhibit "Snow Stuff" is a three part Mustang feature comedy drama with Larry Peyton, Charles James, Art Acord (Back Parry), Joe Massey, Hardy Gibson, George Clancy, Perry Banks, Ashton,

Portsmouth Owls Will Start Waverly Lodge

Members of the Owls held an enthusiastic meeting Monday evening at which W. L. Taylor, organizer, was present. Mr. Taylor invited the local order to help institute a new Owl lodge in Waverly, Saturday night. His invitation was accepted and the local degree team will initiate the new lodge's candidates which number between 75 and 100. There will be a big parade and speeches in the Waverly park before the new order is formally instituted.

Files Suit For Divorce

Millie Rockwell is seeking an answering to the name of divorce from Herschell Rockwell, Grace Denning at divers times citing as grounds for her action prior and since April 1, 1916, that the defendant was guilty of committing adultery with a woman.

JUNIOR SERMON PLAN IS A SUCCESS

Rev. George P. Horst, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Dearborn and Dixie Stratton. The Titan Moving Picture company is getting along nicely without Mr. Gordon, director and manager of the western troupe. Everybody admires Myrtle Manners the leading lady. Gordon finds a scene that fails to please him and in showing how he would do it attempts to kiss the leading lady. She hits him over the head with the butt of a revolver and later he is fired. "Professor's Peculiar Precautions" is a Falstaff comedy. A thrilling Helen Holmes railroad drama completes the bill.

At the Arcsna "The Haunted Bell" is a pleasing two reel lamp drama, a mystery offering based on a story by the late Jacques Futelle. King Baggot, Edna Hunter and Frank Smith play the leading roles. It is rather a relief from stories depending entirely upon swift action for their interest. "Eddie's Night Out" is a Nestor comedy, featuring Eddie Lyons, Lee Moran, Betty Compson and Stella Adams. The young married man henpecked by his mother-in-law, slips away for a night's frolic. He has trouble reinstating himself but finally subdues the mother-in-law. Full of humorous incidents, "Trotting With the Universal Pen" is a reel of interesting views.

At the Forrest "The Man in the Sombra" is one of the American company's best two reel productions in a long time. The leading character parts are taken by Harold Lockwood and May Allison. You all know these two movie stars and their style of acting. This is a pretty love story told in a wholesome way. A play that is away above the average. "The Diamond from the Sky" will also be shown tonight in two more reels of thrills and excitement. "Grace's Gorgeous Gowns" is a screaming Falstaff comedy.

At the Temple Tonight is another big feature night at the popular East End theatre. If you have not seen any of the "Who's Guilty" series you had better start tonight sure. Two thousand feet of sensational realism is the main attraction for tonight. It is two reels of the great "Who's Guilty" series, produced by the Pathe company, the originator of series of pictures and not serials. Two good side splitting, mirth provoking comedies complete the bill.

At The Strand "The Rival Pilots" is a 101 Bison number in two parts featuring Lee Hill, L. C. Shumway and Margaret Mayburn. This is a brisk railroad story, very good of its type and containing some sensational scenes. A small child is exposed to great danger in this picture. The acting seemed a tremendous risk and gave more of a shock than a pleasurable thrill. "Hubby Puts One Over" is a Joker comedy featuring Gale Henry and William Francy. "The Stolen Melody" is a Powers feature.

A LARGE ARMY of germs are constantly ready to invade the human body. Protect your home and family by having always ready for instant use a bottle of hy- chlorite, the remarkable antiseptic with wonderful healing power. If you get a scratch, burn, bruise or hurt, apply hychlorite instantly and avoid dangerous and fatal blood poisoning. Germs that infect sores cannot live when hychlorite is applied. It cleanses, purifies and heals quickly. It never stings, burns or blisters and is absolutely pure and reliable. Contains no acid. Is ideal for the sick room, destroying all odors and disease germs. In the bathroom and nursery, it cleanses, purifies and protects health. Your druggist will supply hychlorite in 25c bottles. Ask for it today. General Laboratories, Madison, Wis.

A special meeting of all members of the degree team and all members who want to make the trip will be held Wednesday evening at the Schroeder harness shop 419 Gay street at 7:30 o'clock.

BIRD BALLYHOO LAUGHED AT "ANTI" AND WAS BARRED FROM PARADE

Mrs. Hazel Furman & Votes. (Lith Film Service)

"Votes," the only bird ballyhoo for suffrage in the world, was banished from suffrage parade headquarters in Chicago, because he laughed at an anti who was just on the point of being converted to the cause. "Votes" job was to sit on a golden perch near the door and urge all women passing along Michigan avenue to "Come on in and sign up for the parade."

His siren call lured a middle aged anti inside the door, and she was just getting interested in an explanation of the big parade when "Votes" laughed at her. She departed in a huff. "Votes" followed in a few minutes in a yellow taxi, the suffragists fearing that his sense of humor might deprive them of more converts. The bird's owner is Mrs. Hazel Furman, a youthful Chicago suffragist.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 50.

Dearest Miss Wise.—A friend and I had an argument about a wedding service. Now Dolly should you remove the engagement ring before the wedding? That is, should the ring finger be "naked"? Won't you please settle this little spat.

TWO IGNORANTS.
Yes, the engagement ring should be removed before the ceremony. The bride usually gives the engagement ring into the maid's keeping during the ceremony and then after the wedding ring has been placed on the third finger of the left hand the engagement ring may then be slipped on. Or if the bride has no attendant or cares to, she may before the ceremony put her engagement ring on her right hand and after the ceremony slip it on over the wedding ring. Some people believe it good luck never to remove the band ring after the wedding.

Answer to "Matrimony"—Unless your name and address was given in the matrimonial ad you can not be sure it was meant for you. Such things are very annoying, I know but if you pay no attention to it and when people do tease you about advertising in a matrimonial paper take it good naturedly they will soon forget about it. There are people who delight in sending in items about other people in which there is no truth, whatever, to a newspaper to be printed. There is a state law which covers such offenses and any one found guilty of deliberately misinforming a newspaper may be severely punished.

Miss Wise.—Will you kindly inform me as to whether the bride-elect or her mother should issue invitations to a linen shower for the bride to be? should the shower be given in the afternoon or the evening? If at the latter time, should men be invited? Would it be proper for the bride-elect to entertain her husband-to-be and a few men friends only, at her house, if it is impossible for him to do so at his home?

BRIDE-TO-BE.
It is never good form for the bride or any member of her family to invite friends to a shower for the bride. As a rule, an intimate friend of the bride does this and invites only the nearest girl friends of the bride. The shower may be held at the time most convenient. It is not customary to invite men, although there are no rules regarding this. If the bride has a brother or male relative who could act as host, such an invitation could be extended. It would be rather embarrassing for the bride and no other woman to be present at the stag party.

Miss Wise.—When one receives an invitation to a luncheon and three persons inclose their cards what is the proper way to answer it, and should calls be made afterward on all three persons?

A. L. B.
Reply to the invitation in the third person, on note paper and address the same to the woman at whose home the luncheon is to be served. In your acceptance, however, you must mention the names of the three women. Call on each one after the luncheon.

Dear Miss Wise.—What is the treatment given linoleum to make it wear and that will keep it fresh and clean looking?

HOUSE WIFE.
A thin solution of shellac will give it a coating that will wear. Apply this as you would paint. Another way is to use ordinary varnish.

SOCIETY

The pretty home of Captain and Mrs. W. H. Williams, on Eighteenth street, which was formerly the old Hayman home, was the scene of a beautiful wedding last evening, when their son, Mr. William Jack Simmons Williams, and Miss Ruth Hazel Robinson were married at eight o'clock. Rev. J. W. Dillon officiating, with the impressive Methodist ring ceremony. The large rooms were exquisitely adorned with palms, ferns and ropes of daisies, and the pretty stairway was entwined with similar and ropes of daisies. At the appointed hour the wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mr. Russell Williams, a brother of the groom, who, during congratulations, rendered Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The ushers were Mr. Dennison Robinson, brother of the bride, and Mr. Cary Williams, brother of the groom. The bride, Miss Ruth Hazel Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hartlage, and niece of the groom, who was attired in white embroidered organdie, with a hair bow of yellow maline, to carry out the wedding colors of yellow and white. The maid of honor was Miss Grace McClure, a friend of the bride, who was attired in a dainty gown of yellow chiffon, built over yellow silk, and carried an armful of yellow roses. The pretty bride wore an exquisite gown of white charmeuse and chiffon panels made over lace and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and smilax. Her veil of tulle was fastened with a head band of pearls. The attractive group were joined at the pretty improvised altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Huston Sanford Williams, brother of the groom. The ceremony took place beneath a bell of daisies, and the background was formed of palms and ferns. After the ceremony delicious yellow and white ices and cake were served to the hundred guests. The favors were daisies tied in yellow ribbon bows. The happy couple left on the C. & O. train for a week's visit in Cincinnati and Dayton, and on their return will make their home with the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swadlow, on Scioto Trail. On her trip the bride wore a pretty suit of midnight blue serge and taffeta with hat, gloves and shoes of gray. The presents included a deed for a lot in Garden City, near Wheelersburg, a chest of silver, cut glass, table and furniture. Included in the guest list were Mrs. Charles Dammert, of Dayton, (Kinsister of the groom, Mrs. Eli Sargent and daughter Vera, of Cincinnati, aunt and cousin of the groom; Mrs. McAlister, of Ashland, Ky., sister of the bride; Mrs. Lloyd Moreland, of Atlanta, Ga., cousin of the groom. An interesting feature

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are, when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, much of the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal, amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can probably best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a careful combination of six splendid assimilable agents. Taken with meals they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet, its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by Fisher and Streich and other druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Note—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

ture of the wedding was the announcement of the engagement of Mr. Huston Sanford Williams, another son of the household, and Miss Grace McClure, daughter of Mr. Margaret E. McClure, of Mount street. Miss McClure is an attractive young woman and a popular eleventh and Mr. Williams is a splendid young man.

The Rheims Cathedral

Copies of Paintings at 29c and 59c

Through a special purchase we are able to offer our customers two views of the famous Rheims Cathedral in sizes 16x20 inches and 20x26 inches at only 29c and 59c. These are handsome reproductions in original colors, one being an outside view and the other interior.

These are now on display in our window. They are made especially for framing. Work was begun on this cathedral in 1212 under the personal supervision of Archbishop Humbert. He pushed the work with such vigor that it was finished in 1242. The wonderful unity of the architecture attests to the rapidity of the work. The interior is 466 feet long and 121 feet high. The architects were Bernard de Soissons, Gauthier de Reims, Jean d'Orbais and Jean Loops.

At the end of the 13th century the church was enlarged and the structure was completed in the course of the 14th century, from designs of the 13th century, under the architect Robert de Coucy.

This prodigy of magnificence, with its army of five thousand statues and resplendent windows which flashed in the rays of the setting sun like a world of sparkling jewels, has been damaged almost beyond repair during the present war.

The shattered stain glass windows can never be replaced for the glass was made seven hundred years ago and the secret of the process is lost.

Many historic events occurred in this old cathedral. Doubtless the most important in French history was the coronation of Charles VII.

WOMAN'S MARTYRDOM
How many men, think you, have any idea of the pain and misery endured by women of their own households, who suffer from their peculiar to their sex. They often see them smiling and trying to be cheerful, even while racked with pain. If every such woman would only be guided by the experience of thousands of others who have been restored to health by that grand old remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, much suffering might be avoided.

Empty Handed.
The afternoon of the new neighbor had passed very pleasantly. James Junior cried when told that it was time to go home.

"Never mind," said the lady consolingly. "You can come again."
"It ain't that," said James Junior. "It's the walloping I am going to get from Henry. When I get home he'll say 'Halves,' and if I have to tell him that you didn't give me anything he will think I'm telling a story and punch my head for it."—New York Times.

HUNTINGTON'S MURDER MYSTERY MAY PROVE TO BE AN "ACCIDENT"

Huntington, W. Va., June 13.—If Dennis White, formerly of Miller, O., is alive, he will be asked to explain how Mrs. Ida Estep Smith, 615 West Third avenue, met her death in the Ohio river.

If White, too, was drowned in the river, as the police believe he was, the recovery of his body will be the solution of what at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon appeared to be a puzzling murder mystery.

Last night, after a thorough inquiry, the police were confident that White's body will be recovered in a few days and that, in the almost total absence of a motive for crime, it will be shown the couple perished by drowning when their leaky "jocboat" was overturned in the river opposite Fourteenth street, West, on Sunday, June 4th.

That the police believe their death accidental was evidenced last night when Chief of Police Sam Davis freed Fremont (Trigger) Smith, age 30, who had been lodged in the county jail yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock as a suspect. Smith, whose wife's body was found in the river, proved a complete alibi. He had waked when told that his pretty young wife was last seen in company with a young man, who, according to all concerned in the case, was apparently infatuated with her.

The case, one of the strangest with which the police have had to deal in recent years, had its inception, when on Wednesday, June 7, a woman's body was found floating in the river, just above Dam No. 28, at Westmoreland. The body was taken to the Chapman undertaking establishment, where until about three o'clock yesterday afternoon it laid nameless. About that hour Fremont Smith, who is well known to the local police, walked in the morgue, and after a cursory examination, declared the corpse that of his wife. Unmistakable marks on the body proved the identification, Smith declared. Shortly thereafter Smith was placed under surveillance by the police and when he told a conflicting story about his movements on the day the woman's body was found he was placed in jail and registered as "held for investigation."

In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Estep, who gave their address as 523 Twentieth street, arrived at the morgue and identified the body as that of their daughter. They were able to recognize her clothing. There was one circumstance about the body, which led the police to believe for a time that she had met with foul play. That was the presence in the dead woman's mouth of a quantity of tobacco, to which relatives said, she had been addicted. Doctors declared it hardly possible the woman could have drowned without some convulsive muscular action which would have removed the foreign matter from her mouth. At the same time the clue eliminated the chances of her having killed herself by poison, such as carbolic acid.

Chief of Police Davis then questioned the woman's husband, "Trigger" Smith, as to his movements on June 4th, Sunday, the day when the woman was last seen. Smith's alibi was that on that day he was in jail at Charleston, as he had been committed to prison on a charge of "bootlegging." Smith declared he had been released on Monday, June 5, the day before the primary. He further declared that he did not come to Huntington until Thursday,

June 8, the day after his wife's body was recovered. In response to an inquiry the Kanawha county jailer confirmed the date of Smith's release from the prison as Monday, June 5, exactly as the prisoner had said. With Smith thus practically eliminated from the case, Chief Davis, assisted by Police Detective Frank Blake, and Patrolman Caldwell, set about to trace the last movements of the dead woman.

It was discovered that at ten o'clock Sunday morning she left her home on West Third avenue, accompanied by White, who was said to be a son of Dave White, of Miller, O. They expressed the intention of "going over the river," and both said they would return in the afternoon. They were seen to get in a small, leaky, "jocboat" at the ferry landing at Fourteenth street, West. The woman, it was said, had been drinking. The man who saw them get into the boat is R. C. King, ferryman, of 317 Fourteenth street, West. The woman, according to others who saw them Sunday morning, carried a small pearl-handled knife.

On the Tuesday following, that

Sunday, and the day before the woman's body was recovered, the "jocboat" was found floating in the river opposite Fourteenth street, West. It apparently floated out from underneath some barges moored on the Ohio shore. The oars were missing. King, the ferryman, said the last time he saw the couple, they were rowing up the river along the barges.

The police then, in the absence of a motive for murder, as White was described as mild-mannered and much in love with Smith's wife, concluded that the leaky boat somehow had been swept underneath the barges and that both White and the woman were drowned. The police are confident that a few days will prove the accuracy of this theory, but add that they will, in the meantime, continue a search for White.

White is described as about twenty-four or five years old, slender, dark complexion, and on the day last seen he was wearing a dark gray coat, a string tie with a red stripe in it, dark trousers, a greenish hat, and white shirt with white linen, or celluloid collar.

Complaints Made At Police Station Result Of Actions Of 2 Women

The police were kept busy Monday afternoon listening to complaints that a crazy woman was on a rampage in an alley house east of Gay street between Tenth and Eleventh streets. Patrolman Joe Beckett upon reaching the home found two women there. One of them giving the name of Mary Hatfield, was drunk, while the other, a

Mary Arthur, was acting strangely, chattering something which Beckett likened to the "unknown tongue." Probate Judge T. C. Beatty was notified by the woman was crazed by drink. Both women were brought to the police station. Mrs. Arthur was some one would prefer a lunacy charge against her. Calls contin-

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary multifid coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, leaving every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get multifid coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

HOW ABOUT YOUR "MISFORTUNES?"

If you had one of your legs cut off, would you consider it a piece of good fortune?

Of all foolish questions this seems on the face of it on the par of any, for who would want to go through life handicapped by the loss of one of his legs?

Yet, there is a man in Portsmouth, who is in no danger of being the subject of a lunacy inquest, who is positive that the loss of one of his legs is the greatest thing that ever happened to him, in the way of shaping his future for his good and prosperity.

Not to make the story too intimate, so the man would be embarrassed by the details, it is sufficient to say that he was a workman employed at so much per day, when in the course of the daily hazard of his employment he was the victim of an accident from which he emerged with one leg so badly crushed that amputation was necessary.

Perhaps you can imagine his thoughts when he was first able to hobble about on crutches. There he was, with little money, and so crippled that he never could again follow the trade upon which he had depended to make a living. In the midst of his young manhood he had been cast upon the shore of derelicts, it seemed, and the future appeared very dark to him. But fortunately he had a stout will.

"If I can't work with my hands any more, I am going to make my brain support me," he determined, and so he began to fit himself for a struggle in the world of business.

Today that young man has a responsible position as the head of a prosperous business in Portsmouth, is married, happy, and faces the years to come with a smiling, confident face. Money has supplied an artificial limb that enables him to move about in an almost normal manner. Many of his friends undoubtedly are unaware that he has lost a limb.

Knowing these facts it does not seem so strange, then, that when he was conversing about his "misfortune" the other day, he should remark "It was the best thing that ever happened to me."

What are your misfortunes going to be to you? Burdens to drag you down or spurs to incite you to real success in life?

Now that one set of perspiring delegates has helped to save the country by making the nominations at Chicago, and another set of equally hard working delegates is busy at St. Louis saving the country in the way that seems best to them, we fellows at home working, can begin to acquire the necessary spirit of "willingness to be saved" and get ready to cast our ballots accordingly.

BE ONE OF THE BOOSTERS SATURDAY

Make your arrangements now to be one of the thousands who will make "Shoemakers' Day" a success Saturday afternoon. Portsmouth has the reputation of being equal to any emergency, of always being ready to give anything pertaining to her civic good, a genuine boost when needed, and the good old Peerless is not going to be found wanting Saturday.

To make "Shoemakers' Boosting Day" a real success there must be such a crowd at the Millbrook Park diamonds as was never seen there before. Half-way measures will not do.

Now that we are in this matter, the "City Spirit" is in a measure involved, and it behooves every good, loyal citizen of "The best town in Southern Ohio" to get out and hustle for the success of this boosting day for "The best team in the Ohio State League."

It would seem the laboring man, who said the other day that there were interests that would not let Hughes remove himself from the supreme bench by becoming a presidential candidate was seeing the situation pretty clearly.

Some one has devised "Peace, Prosperity and Preparedness" as the Democratic slogan and there is no denying it has a most satisfying ring to it, and there is more meat in it than in the average party shibboleth.

Louis D. Brandeis has been sworn in as member of the United States supreme court, but a critical examination of the foundation of the government shows it is still untried.

The Lexington Herald is not at all surprised to have the enblegram that the Turks have again taken the offensive. It has always regarded them as more or less so, with considerable doubt as to the less.

Uncle Sam appears to have San Domingo and Haiti about the same as Job had boils.

It was typical of Ohio politics that Burton was the first to be butchered in the house of his friends; and more so that the hands that did the work came from Cincinnati.

The German government, according to report, has seized all the meat in the empire, but the Allies are somewhat vigorously disputing with her as to who shall bring home the bacon.

Naming the baby is an important matter, and, judging from the names some parents select, our personal opinion is that they would have done better to have left it to an expert.—Detroit Free Press.

THE POLITICAL STAGE

THE TENDENCY TO EXAGGERATE

There is always a tendency to exaggerate. Few people indeed repeat a story as they heard it, or relate a happening as it really occurred. To embellish, to polish, to trim the edges or to enlarge, that seems to be a characteristic of the human race. Exaggeration is supposed to be a purely Oriental characteristic, but the truth is that we in this country are rapidly approaching the Orientals in the same manner.

Usually there is no viciousness in the exaggeration. The fellow who relates what he has heard or what he has seen doesn't desire to work harm to anybody; he only desires to be interesting. Perhaps he decides to bring a little reflected glory to himself, to have it appear that he was a sort of a hero, so he makes it appear that there was greater danger than really existed, or that his report was a little more warlike than it really was, or that the other fellow was much more seriously wounded than was the case. But at any rate, there is usually exaggeration in every statement one hears—and that's the trouble. Many persons complain that the newspapers do not print the truth, or magnify everything or make it sensational. The facts are that the newspapers are much more conservative in handling all matters than is the average reader. The newspapers do take some pains to verify alleged occurrences, and to get at the facts, but the average man not only fails to do that—he actually draws upon his imagination and exaggerates in many instances simply for the sake of making himself or his story more entertaining—as he supposes.—Columbus Dispatch.

One thing, at least, we like about this Women's Federated Club is that it calls its president the chairwoman and not the chair-lady.

We've waded through billows of chaff about the Chicago conventions and never a word have we seen about Gussie Gardner. And only so lately Gussie was given to parading and clucking around with the air of a man who had the sole right and patent on Preparedness and all things thereto appertaining.

Sometimes the auto plays partly even with the train. Near Danville Illinois, the two disputed for the right of way over a crossing. The auto was, of course, knocked all to flinders, but the train was jolted from the track and piled up into a wreck.

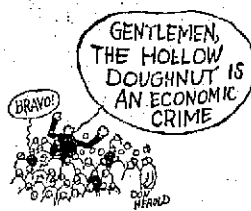

It is a bit singular that the only contest on the county tickets of both parties is for commissioners.

In the light of past experiences, we fear the Russians are getting some hard trouncings. The Petrograd claim bureau is again working overtime.

BedTime Tales

Willy Woodrat Spies Something

"WHAT ARE YOU looking at, Willy Woodrat?" asked Mrs. Willy one evening just before the short twilight faded away into night. "No answer," she repeated. "What are you looking at? Tell me!"

No answer. Willy Woodrat stood perfectly still and kept his eyes fixed on the tree at which he had been staring for many minutes. Mrs. Willy knew that it was useless to ask him again. If he did not answer a question at the second asking he never would. Willy was queer that way. Sometimes he would chatter away in a lively fashion; and then sometimes he wouldn't answer a word to the most urgent questions. Willy always explained that he wanted Mrs. Willy to have the fun of finding things out for herself—but that answer didn't satisfy Mrs. Willy a bit. She didn't want to bother to find out things for herself, she wanted to be told in the quickest way possible, just as you and I do.

But she knew Willy. If he wanted her to discover something for herself, she might as well start discovering at once for he'd never tell her where to look. (That was very good training for Mrs. Willy's sharp eyes, though she didn't realize it.)

She slipped around behind him and looked up to where his eyes were watching—up at the big, old, more trunk. But she couldn't see anything of interest.

"Maybe I'm not looking right," she thought she, and she again looked up, and then, seeing she had been looking at the tree trunk to the hollow where the bat lived, and peered into the hole.

"Willy, how silly you are to sit there looking at that yamora tree that's been there forever!" when Willy whispered, "There he is again!"

"Who? Where? What?" cried Mrs. Willy, all excitement in a minute.

"The bat," replied Willy scornfully. "I thought you were watch-

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, June 13.—It was night on the Bowery. The bells in front of the pawnshops were tinkling to notify the wayfarer who was dying light that he could exchange anything from the gold crown of a tooth to the shoes he wore, for cash.

Now and then a purring limousine filled with gay parties of summers raced through the street—the tail lights gleaming red in the night. Out of a ram-shackle Ten Cent Lodging House stumbled a white-haired man. There was a certain something about his face that spoke of one-time respectability and affluence. His clothes were frayed now, and his arms speckled with little blue dots that told of frequent use of the hypodermic. Behind him came a young silk-hatted, evening-clothed man. He carried a cane.

They are father and son. The story reached the newspapers, but like this little story no names were mentioned. The son is a big man of affairs. His father educated him at Harvard and then the mother died. It broke the father's heart and he took to drink and later to drugs.

He disappeared several weeks ago because he did not want to be seen by his former friends, or to disgrace his son. The son heard through a private detective agency that his father had just gone to a Bowery "flop house." He left the opera and went after him. Now the father is in a sanitarium.

To be able to locate a friend in New York is now a simple matter. It is done by electricity. Just press the button and that is all there is to it. A new city directory has just been invented. It shows a map of the city under glass and behind the glass is a series of electric lights. The streets are listed by numbers that correspond to white push buttons and if you want to know where a certain street is, look up the number under which it is listed and push the corresponding white button.

A block of light shows up behind the map, not only revealing the street you want, but the surrounding neighborhood and the nearest subway, surface, or elevated station. The first day the electric directory was installed a husband from Mexico, Missouri, found his wife, who was on her way to the Bronx and phoned him she was lost. She just gave the name of the street. He pressed the button and found her later by first taking the name of the street she was phoning from. When he pressed the button, the light showed him how to get her quickly. The first directory of this kind was installed at the Hotel Majestic and is the invention of a New Yorker.

Residents along Central Park are beginning a fight against the mosquito. It is alleged that the marshes in Central Park are responsible for the number of them that made life a torture last summer. The large hotels at the Fifty-Ninth street entrance—the Plaza, Netherlands and Savoy—were forced to screen everything last year at a large expense and the owners insist that something must be done.

The plan now is to fill in the marshes and damp spots and exterminate every mosquito in the park. The Health Board is co-operating and it is stated that in two more weeks Central Park will not have one mosquito—something that has never been possible before in its history.

Rasko, an Austrian artist, was forced to leave London at the beginning of the war. He had a home on the Thames and was becoming the rage. When he landed in New York he was broke. It seemed a hopeless task to start all over again. While mixing paint in his studio the other day he discovered a chemical solution that it is said will make him a millionaire. He is going to become a citizen because he likes our country very much indeed.

When the Green Gets Back On the Trees

In spring, when the green gets back in the trees, And the sun comes out and stays, And per boots pulls on with a good, tight squeeze, And you think of yer barefoot days;

When you ort to work and you want to not, And you and yer wife agree, It's time to spade up the garden lot, When the green gets back in the trees—

Well! work is the least of my ideas, When the green, you know, gets back in the trees!

When the green gets back in the trees, and bees, Is a-buzzin' round again, In that kind of alazy, go-as-you-please

Old gait they bun round in, When the groun's all hold where the hayrick stood, And the erick's riz, and the breeze Coaxes the bloom in the old dog-wood,

And the green gets back in the trees— I like, as I say, in such scenes as these, The time when the green gets back in the trees!

When the whole tail-fethers o' winter time Is all pulled out and gone! And the sap it thaws and begins to climb,

And the sweet it starts out on A feller's forced, a gittin' down At the old spring on his knees— I kin do like jest a-loadn' ram!

When the green gets back in the trees— Jest a-potterin' round as I-durn-please, When the green, you know, gets back in the trees.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

A Dry Reception

A stranded, but still, haughty "leading lady" was obliged to put up at a dilapidated country hotel. She glanced frowningly about the office, reluctantly signed the register and took the brass key from the proprietress.

"Is there water in my room?" she demanded. "Why, there was," replied the proprietress, "but I had the roof fixed."

Safeguarded

The following is a bona fide statement made by a 7-year-old girl who had listened to medical talk all her life. Being asked her father's business, she replied:

"My father is a doctor, but he isn't a quack! My father's got a license, so if he kills any one they can't arrest him!"—Yarus.

Getting Even

A singer, who recently passed an evening at the house of a lady stayed late. As he rose to go the hostess said:

"Pray, don't go yet, Mr. Basso; I want you to sing something for me."

"Oh, you must excuse me tonight; it is very late and I should disturb the neighbors."

"Never mind the neighbors," answered the woman, quickly; "they poisoned our dog yesterday."

Belonged To The Reserves

"Me a tramp? No, sir! I'm a member of the army of toil." "You toil? That's a joke. I never saw you toil."

"Of course not. I'm a member of the reserves."

As She Heard It

A young lady who was inspecting bicycles said to the clerk: "What's the name of this wheel?" "That is the 'Belvidere,'" answered the salesman.

He was rewarded by a stony glare and the icy question: "Can you recommend the Belva?"—"Three Partners."

Exclamatory Rheumatism

Mrs. Mason's colored washer-woman, Martha, was complaining of her husband's health.

"Why, is he sick, Martha?" asked Mrs. Mason.

"He's vely polly, ma'am, vely polly," answered the woman. "He's got the exclamatory rheumatism."

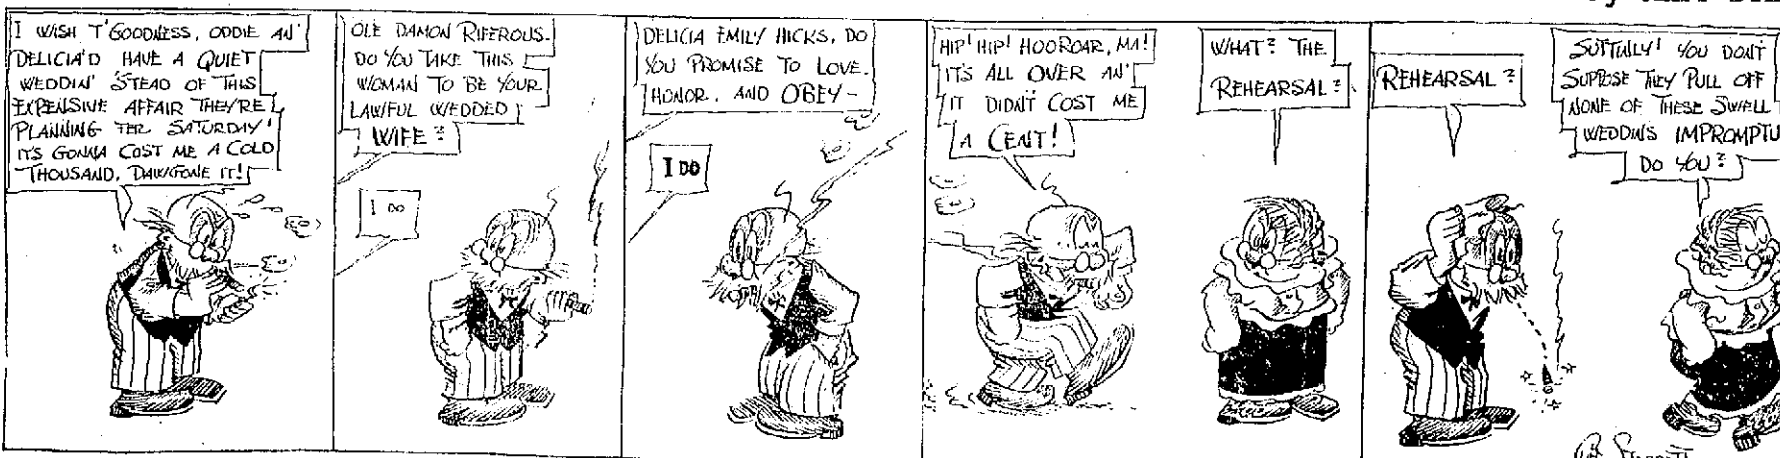

"You mean inflammatory, Martha," said the patron. "Exclamatory means to cry out."

"Yes, ma'am," replied Martha, with conviction; "dat's what it is. He hollers all the time."

MEXICAN SITUATION SERIOUS

Washington, June 13.—Fiftieth hundred additional troops were being mobilized today for Mexican service in view of continued reports of anti-American demonstrations in Mexico and bandit raids on Texan territory. Ten companies of coast artillery drawn from fortifications between Portland, Maine, and Sandy Hook, and a battalion of engineers from the barracks in Washington were under orders to join General Pershing's army and assist in guarding against further border raids in the region near Laredo.

Assistant Secretary of War Ingraham, in the absence of Secretary Baker, faced a situation which officials admitted appeared serious. They feared not only continuance of the bandit raids but the effect the killing of three bandits who raided the Coleman ranch near Laredo, Sunday, might have on the Mexican people. Equally puzzling to officials was the question of what purpose is the basis for the anti-American demonstrations and the renewed border attacks.

Reports persisted that certain Carranza officers have agreed not to interfere with the Mexican general, De La Rosa, in his threatened attack on border communities. In this connection was cited the report that one of the bandits killed after the Sunday raid had been identified as Lieutenant Colonel Villareal, a Carranza officer. Even civil authorities of northern Mexican states are said to be relaxing their strict allegiance to the Carranza government and issuing orders independent of the Mexico City officials.

Vice Presidency And Suffrage Interest The Democrats

Marshall Appears The Favorite For Nomination; Baker Refuses To Enter The Race In Opposition

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—Delegates to the Democratic National convention, which opens here at noon tomorrow, appeared to be interested in two questions today. One was whether Vice President Marshall would be re-nominated or whether the favorite would insist upon their names going before the convention for a ballot.

The other was the probable action of the delegates with regard to the demand of the suffragists for an unequivocal declaration in the platform in favor of equal rights.

Sentiment for the re-nomination of Vice President Marshall appeared so strong today leaders said that there was talk among them of starting a movement to have him named without going through the formality of taking a ballot. The talk of naming Secretary of War Baker for the second place on the ticket ended almost as suddenly as it started. The war secretary had much to do with putting the quietus to his boom, he declaring before he left Washington for the convention city that he was for Marshall and that the mention of his name was merely "friendly enterprise."

The fact that Mr. Baker had just left President Wilson when he announced that he favored Mr. Marshall for re-nomination also gave support to the idea of having Mr. Marshall acclaimed the candidate without calling the roll. It was said that Governor John P. Moorehead, of Nebraska, may withdraw his name as a candidate for vice president.

Indiana Important Battle Ground

Early today it was reported here that President Wilson had sent word to St. Louis that he regarded Indiana as one of the most important battle grounds of the coming campaign and that he would be pleased to see delegates act as a unit in renominating the vice president. Suffragists who came here from Chicago where they were compelled to accept what they consider a compromise plank in the Republican platform or suffer complete defeat, are prepared today to continue their fight for a straight out declaration for votes for women. The suffragists are divided into two groups, one representing the National American Woman Suffrage Association and another women's party which was organized last week in Chicago by members of the congressional association. The latter organization is not disposed to compromise. Its leaders are prepared to make a strong fight for a federal constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote in all the states. What action the resolutions committee will take leaders of the Democracy hesitate to forecast. But there are some among them who believe the Democrats will go at least as far as the Republicans with a delegation from the navy league. They will present the views of the league as to the enlargement of the navy.

Senator Stone, former Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, who will also be a member of the resolutions committee and several other leaders continued the consideration of platform matters today. The committee will be named tomorrow. It will immediately organize, and according to present indications, the platform will be completed Wednesday night. A report will be made to the convention until Friday morning, however.

Tickets Are All Distributed

Demand for tickets to the Coliseum continued to grow today, but there were none to be had by the late comers as the apportionment of seats has already been made. The management of the Coliseum last night locked out 120 workmen and all representatives of the national committee for three hours and re-admitted the workmen only after the national committee had agreed to give the Coliseum managers four boxes containing 22 seats. Several days ago the attention of the national committee was called to a clause in the agreement with the management of the Coliseum which had not been noticed at the time of signing. This clause the Coliseum managers said, required that any one renting the building must give to the managers the use of four boxes.

PRESIDENT ARRIVES AT WEST POINT

West Point, N. Y., June 13.—President Wilson arrived here at 9:30 a. m., to attend the graduation exercises at the military academy. When the naval yacht, Mayflower, carrying the president and Mrs. Wilson, anchored in the Hudson river, off the academy grounds, a national salute of 21 guns was fired and answered from the yacht. A troop of cavalrymen escorted Mr. and Mrs. Wilson to the parade grounds.

The president, with Mrs. Wilson and Brigadier General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, were enthusiastically applauded as they rode to their seats past the corps of cadets. The weather was perfect.

G. O. P. HEADQUARTERS ARE TO BE ESTABLISHED IN NEW YORK CITY; ONE ALSO IN CHICAGO

New York, June 13.—Republican leaders and personal and political friends continued to call upon Charles E. Hughes today at his temporary headquarters in a hotel here to congratulate him on his nomination and to confer upon arrangements for the campaign.

One of the men expected to call today was former United States Senator W. Murray Crane, of Dalton, Massachusetts, member of the sub-committee, to arrange a date and place for the official notification to Mr. Hughes on his nomination.

It was reported that Mr. Crane would discuss with Mr. Hughes the selection of a chairman of the Republican National committee.

Mr. Hughes expects to remain here until Monday, when he will go to Providence, R. I., to attend a commencement exercise of Brown University, from which he was graduated.

National Republican headquarters will be established in New York with a second office in Chicago, is the opinion of Herbert Parsons, leader of the Republican committee from this state.

Paris, June 13.—The battle for Verdun has broken out with unusual violence on the east bank of the Meuse, after the lull following the capture of Fort Vaux. The Germans put the lull to good use. They brought up fresh effective, reformed their lines and advanced their artillery to positions from which they have begun a methodical pounding of the main French defenses, especially the powerful batteries at Tannoy and Fort Souville. At the same time the French advanced line, which was plastered with shells all day Sunday, has been subjected to a series of fierce onslaughts at Thiaumont farm, the position on which the line pivots.

The French on their part have not been idle during the past few days. Thiaumont farm bristles with well placed machine guns and the German masses, tailing up the slope which leads to the French positions, have been driven back again and again, while their reserves have been kept copiously showered by sprays of shells from the French batteries at the rear and on the other side of the river.

"The fighting continues as desperately as ever, but the situation on both sides is unchanged so far. The fighting is characterized by eye-witnesses as infernal. It is estimated that the Germans used up 30,000 infantry in assaults on the trenches west of Fort Vaux and at Thiaumont. The attacks followed each other in such close succession as practically to merge one in the other.

VICTIM'S CHUM CHANGES STORY AGAINST ORPET

TROOPER IS HIT BY A BULLET

Waukegan, June 13.—Josephine Davis, chum of Marion Lambert, for whose death last February Will H. Orpet is charged with murder, resumed her testimony at the continuance of the trial today.

Miss Davis, who has been referred to as the "strongest witness for the state," proved to be a better witness for the defense yesterday. She said she had testified falsely at the coroner's inquest and at the hearing before the grand jury, and that she now wished to correct her earlier statements.

The particular points that Miss Davis changed in her testimony were to the effect that she had testified that Orpet had given a capsule to Miss Lambert to relieve a supposed delicate condition, and that she had said that Marion was in a happy frame of mind at all times.

She testified that her statements to the grand jury were influenced because she felt "spiteful" toward the defendant on account of the death of her friend.

Columbus, N. M., June 13.—A bullet fired across the Mexican frontier at Lone Cabin, forty miles south of El Paso, N. M., yesterday, struck Lee W. Sanders, a trooper of K troop, Twelfth cavalry, in the left leg, according to a report made today by Sanders. Col. Horatio Sikes, commanding the border patrol, has begun an investigation of the incident.

GERMANS CAPTURE A TRENCH

Paris, June 13.—German troops last night renewed the attack over the whole section of the Verdun front west of Thiaumont farm. They succeeded in entering a small advanced trench at one point, but were repulsed elsewhere, the French war office announced today.

FOUR BANDS ARE SECURED FOR "SHOEMAKERS DAY"

PARADE WILL FORM AT DAILY TIMES CORNER, LINE-UPS ANNOUNCED

Talk about your music at the republican national convention! The delegates probably heard some music as it chorled through silver cornets or brass tubas, but what they heard was only a patch to the music that will be made in Portsmouth, next Saturday afternoon, June 17 as the parade starts for Millbrook Park where "Shoemakers Day" will be fittingly and properly observed. Aye, my friends, there will be more music to the square inch in Portsmouth next Saturday than at the several national conventions, G. O. P., Bull Moose, Democratic, et al.

Four brass bands, and they'll be named instantly. River City, Portsmouth, Jr. Order United American Mechanics, and "Chick" Westphal's Tack Band, will form in line in front of The Daily Times office at 1 o'clock, p. m. next Saturday, preliminary to forming the grand parade that will start soon thereafter, for Millbrook Park.

Unless several police officers are stationed within easy reaching distance, it is feared a regular riot will result when "Westphal's Tack Band" attempts to down out the River City Band. The leader of the "Blowers" declares he is going to recruit a bunch that will take first place at a county fair, skill, uniform and execution combined.

The parade, for it will be a PARADE, will assemble at The Daily Times corner promptly at 1 o'clock and of course there will be serenades galore. After the musicians have done their best to charm a large audience of ball players, more than forty in number, will line up and the march begin. Hundreds, say, thousands of shoeworkers will fall in line as the parade moves up Chilli-otho street to Gallia, thence east on Gallia to Waller, north on Waller to Ninth street, where upwards of a dozen street cars will be stationed to accommodate the crowd. It is also expected that a large number of automobiles will follow in the wake of the parade, which will be composed of a combination bunch of citizens, the shoemakers' teams, Portsmouth and Mayville players.

As soon as the bunch of noise-makers reach beautiful Millbrook Park the fun will begin. At a meeting of the big committee held at the First National Bank building, last night, it was decided to recruit two teams, composed of players who saw service in the Saturday Afternoon League. In order to do this it was found necessary to call on the "Living Brew." The Selby-Excelsior team will line up as follows: Bob Padan, c; "Buck" Yeager, p; (re-named) and Hubbard off having put his soup bone in 1915 condition; Joe Brennan, ss; James Bannan, 1b; Joe Barber, 2b; Brooks Gowdy, 3b; (not Hank of Boston); Homer Selby, 1f; Eddie Brennan, cf; Earl Reinhard, rf; George Reinhard and Pat Flowers, extras.

The Irving Drew team will present the following appearance: Edgar Thomson, c; John (Punk) Doherty, p; Will Doherty, ss; Jack Hartlage, 3b; Cotton Shuler, 2b; Jake Bassler, 1b; Gene Cribben, 1f; Clyde Banfield, cf; Walter Blitzer, rf; (providing he can buy, borrow or steal, a uniform of sufficient size); Frank Ray, Billy Stenshorn, extras.

Umpires, Dan W. Conroy and "Doc" Severs.

The committee meeting last night was enthusiastic from beginning to end. Every fellow present is heart and soul in the movement to make "Shoemakers Day" the biggest event of its kind ever held in this section of the good old U. S. A. All boys and girls under 16 years of age will be admitted free of charge—the only request being that the boys hunt out the bleachers or gather along the left foul line. The boys, of course, will be too gallant to occupy the seats

CHAMPS HOME TOMORROW, 12 GAMES IN MILLBROOK

In the grand stand—anyhow, the real fans—those who are coming on—would not give a playmate to sit in the grand stand when there is a room on the bleachers or on the field.

Thousands of 3000 tickets were distributed by the committee last night and they went with a rush Tuesday morning. It is planned to sell 3000 tickets if possible, for judging from the interest shown every shoemaker, his wife and sweetheart will be present. The tickets will sell at 35 cents each and an extra charge made for the grand stand. The only reservation made will be the first row and probably two rows of seats in the center of the big grand stand. These will be reserved for the factory owners and their families as well as those regulars who never miss a game and who spoke for their seats at the opening of the season.

At the conclusion of the Shoemakers' game, the Portsmouth team of the Ohio State League and the Mayville Barley Cubs will stage a regular nine inning game. The schedule shows the Mayville team will be here and not the Old Taylors of Frankfort. If possible Winnie French will pitch the game for Mayville. He is a clown, but some pitcher at that.

The committee having in charge the preparation of the program and the sale of tickets is as follows: Selby Shoe Co.—Theo. Branham, Earl Reinhard, "Baldy" Bauer, Homer Selby, Mark W. Selby.

Excelsior Shoe Co.—John E. Williams, "Buck" Yeager, Russell Egbert, Bob Padan, James Bannan.

Excelsior Shoe Co.—Louis F. Spencer, Gene Cribben, Billy Stenshorn, Jack Hartlage, Wm. R. Clayton.

Make all arrangements to be at the park next Saturday afternoon. Five or six hours of solid enjoyment, consisting of comedy, science, put outs, errors, hits, fouls, bases on balls, hit by pitcher, cracked arms, a leg, skull, boneheads, victory and defeat—yes and music galore. Only 25 cents.

PREPARING TO ENTER MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 12.—Another member of the famous Dunham family of athletes is preparing to enter Michigan.

He is a brother of Morris Dunne, who is a member of the football and baseball team. Several years ago Ed Dunne played first base for the Michigan line. The younger Dunne has been pronounced in recent intercollegiate and dual meets in Illinois and will probably enter Michigan next fall.

OTTO KNABE

Chicago, June 12.—Otto Knabe, at last signed for the summer. He has been signed by Joe Tinker to play second base for the Cubs. Knabe once starred with the Philadelphia Nationals and last year was manager of the Baltimore Federals. This year he signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates but was recently given his unconditional release when Jimmy Viox got back into shape.

Tinker declared that he had watched Knabe's playing this year and that the veteran was certainly entitled to a chance to show his wares. "Knabe is still there as a major leaguer and I expect him to prove that pretty conclusively," said Tinker.

Queer Play Is Made

An odd play came up in a Melrose-Davenport game one day last week. An outfielder got an assist on a strike-out. The batter swung at the third one, the catcher let it go by. The batter hesitated about running to first and the catcher threw to that base.

It was a wild throw and the right fielder, back up, got the ball and fired it back to first before the stupid base runner could reach the bag. Davis of Melrose was the stupid base runner.

Mills was the catcher who made the wild throw. Kaylor the right fielder who recovered the ball and Druggan the first baseman who made the unusual punt.

Mills wore a Portsmouth uniform last year until he broke his left leg sliding into the home plate in Lexington.

According to all that dope, the hero of Gettysburg will stick around another five years.

THIRD STRAIGHT IS TAKEN FROM FAST HUNTINGTON CLUB

(BY JACK YATES)

Huntington, W. Va., June 13.

MANAGERS Midkiff and Spencer changed their battle fronts about as often yesterday as the teams changed sides, six pitchers having graced the mound before the last out was recorded. The batters were not pounding the pellet with any consistency but wildness was the usual failing of the twirlers who fell by the wayside. Portsmouth used more pitchers than Huntington. Spencer sent four different men to the hillock. None showed anything remarkable. Gaffin started for Huntington and though he did not hold the reins more than one inning, he allowed three runs and three hits. King, who had pitched a great game on Sunday after he succeeded Delott, came back again yesterday and went the eight rounds. He deserved to win but his teammates were unable to connect at opportune times. The final score of the game was five to four.

Manager Spencer's string was Reeb, A. King, Sabaskus and Dilts. The latter is an outfielder by trade; but he had something in the last inning against Our Boys. After having walked one man he closed and the next three went out in order. "Dilly" was as pleased as a baby over his showing.

Through Gaffin's wildness the visitors scored one in the first inning. Bush walked and Bauer sacrificed. Dilts doubled and Bush scored. McHenry filed to Schmeer and Dilly advanced. Dilhoefer walked and stole second. Spencer was out on a long foul to Schmeer. The latter made a great catch.

In the second inning the Champs came across with two more. Gaffin could not find the platter and Demoe walked. Jacobus laid down a bunt. He was safe. This put two on and none out. Old Salt Reeb called a halt. Gaffin went to the bench and King walked to the rubber. He was given an ovation. Reeb fanned. King hit Bush. This crammed the sacks. Bauer singled. Demoe and Jacobus scored. Dilts struck out.

Huntington tied it up in the fourth one to Jacobus. McDaniels was across the plate before the ball reached there. King went out, Bush to Spencer. Huntington was easy in the last inning.

Kilbane To Stay Home

Cleveland, June 12.—Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight, has about decided to decline an offer to join the Yankee boxers traveling to Buenos Aires just because he would rather stay home with his children. He was offered $5,000 to make the trip and take part in a battle in the Argentine capital, but doesn't believe he can take his family along and doesn't want to leave them.

Good Crowd At The Game

Huntington, W. Va., June 13.—It was a good Monday crowd. Two hundred fans walked through the turnstile. When Huntington tied the score the rooting was intense. Some of the Portsmouth fans stayed over for the Monday game. They kept up a running fire of wit with the local fans. The western section of the stands was a regular bedlam.

Team To Get An Infielder

A new infielder named Rafferty will join the Huntington Boosters Wednesday. He is a rah, rah kiddie and Manager Midkiff is banking on Rafferty making good.

Battle In Buffalo

In the light of late stirring events John Kilbane's ten round contest with Johnny O'Leary at Buffalo tonight stands forth as one of the most heroic tasks that the featherweight champion has contracted to shoulder in late years. Kilbane is a 5 to 3 favorite.

Two Teams Are Coming

The vasaacres in the American League are contending that the White Sox and Detroit Tigers have rounded in form and should be watched carefully the rest of the way. The Tigers are in position to jump into first place in the Johnson organization should they keep up their good work of the past two weeks.

Ed. Walsh To "Come Back"

Chicago, June 12.—"Big Ed" Walsh, the veteran pitcher of the Chicago Americans will oppose Walter Johnson of Washington in today's game, it being Walsh's first appearance this season. He believes he has regained his old time form.

Eddie Plank Is "Gay Kid"

New York, June 12.—Eddie Plank refuses to be counted out. He scoffs at the idea that he won't amount to much this season, and confounds his critics by the assertion that he expects to keep on pitching in the majors until he is 45 years old. According to all that dope, the hero of Gettysburg will stick around another five years.

Reds Have Not Played Game Since Last Tuesday

Boston, Mass., June 12.—For the fifth day in succession (Sunday excepted), rain, a downpour that disposed of the rain has prevented the Cincinnati Reds from playing baseball. Monday morning the sun was shining, but about one o'clock yesterday afternoon clouds gathered, the wind came and also the rain, a downpour that disposed of the possibility of a game. The Reds have not played since last Tuesday, when they managed to play one of a four-game series with the Brooklyn.

Spiders Issue Challenge

Carl Monk, who has reorganized the Spiders, who were generally conceded to be the best amateur baseball team in Portsmouth last season, is out with a challenge to any team in Portsmouth and surrounding towns.

The Spiders have been fully equipped with new uniforms. They present the following lineup: Thimmes, catcher; Meyers, pitcher; Oscar Brown, shortstop; Howard Monk, first base; Joe Barber, second base; Carl Monk, third base and manager; R. Brennan, left field; Gile, center field and Hauck, right field.

HOW ABOUT YOUR "MISFORTUNES?"

If you had one of your legs cut off, would you consider it a piece of good fortune?
Of all foolish questions this seems on the face of it on the part of any, for who would want to go through life handicapped by the loss of one of his legs?

Yet, there is a man in Portsmouth, who is in no danger of being the subject of a lunacy inquest, who is positive that the loss of one of his legs is the greatest thing that ever happened to him, in the way of shaping his future for his good and prosperity. Not to make the story too intimate, so the man would be embarrassed by the details, it is sufficient to say that he was a workman employed at so much per day, when in the course of the daily hazard of his employment he was the victim of an accident from which he emerged with one leg so badly crushed that amputation was necessary.

Perhaps you can imagine his thoughts when he was first able to hobble about on crutches. There he was, with little money, and so crippled that he never could again follow the trade upon which he had depended to make a living. In the midst of his young manhood he had been cast upon the shore of derelicts, it seemed, and the future appeared very dark to him. But fortunately he had a stout will.

"If I can't work with my hands any more, I am going to make my brain support me," he determined, and so he began to fit himself for a struggle in the world of business.

Today that young man has a responsible position as the head of a prosperous business in Portsmouth; is married, happy, and faces the years to come with a smiling, confident face. Money has supplied an artificial limb that enables him to move about in an almost normal manner. Many of his friends undoubtedly are unaware that he has lost a limb.

Knowing these facts it does not seem so strange, then, that when he was conversing about his "misfortune" the other day, he should remark: "It was the best thing that ever happened to me."

What are your misfortunes going to be to you? Burdens to drag you down or spurs to incite you to real success in life?

Now that one set of perspiring delegates has helped to save the country by making the nominations at Chicago, and another set of equally hard working delegates is busy at St. Louis saving the country in the way that seems best to them, we fellows at home working, can begin to acquire the necessary spirit of "willingness to be saved" and get ready to cast our ballots accordingly.

BE ONE OF THE BOOSTERS SATURDAY

Make your arrangements now to be one of the thousands who will make "Shoemakers' Day" a success Saturday afternoon. Portsmouth has the reputation of being equal to any emergency, of always being ready to give anything pertaining to her civic good, a genuine boost when needed, and the good old Peerless is not going to be found wanting Saturday.

To make "Shoemakers' Boosting Day" a real success there must be such a crowd at the Millbrook Park diamonds as was never seen before. Half-way measures will not do.

Now that we are in this matter, the "City Spirit" is in a measure involved, and it behooves every good, loyal citizen of "The best town in Southern Ohio" to get out and hustle for the success of this boosting day for "The best team in the Ohio State League."

It would seem the laboring man, who said the other day that there were interests that would not let Hughes remove himself from the supreme bench by becoming a presidential candidate was seeing the situation pretty clearly.

Some one has devised "Peace, Prosperity and Preparedness" as the Democratic slogan and there is no denying it has a most satisfying ring to it, and there is more meat in it than in the average party shibboleth.

Louis D. Brandeis has been sworn in as member of the United States supreme court, but a critical examination of the foundation of the government shows it is still untried.

Uncle Sam appears to have San Domingo and Haiti about the same as Job had boils.

It was typical of Ohio politics that Burton was the first to be butchered in the house of his friends; and more so that the hands that did the work came from Cincinnati.

THE POLITICAL STAGE

THE TENDENCY TO EXAGGERATE

There is always a tendency to exaggerate. Few people indeed repeat a story as they heard it, or relate a happening as it really occurred. To embellish, to polish, to trim the edges or to enlarge, that seems to be a characteristic of the human race. Exaggeration is supposed to be a purely Oriental characteristic, but the truth is that we in this country are rapidly approaching the Orientals in the same manner.

Usually there is no viciousness in the exaggeration. The fellow who relates what he has heard or what he has seen doesn't desire to work harm to anybody; he only desires to be interesting. Perhaps he decides to bring a little reflected glory to himself, to have it appear that he was a sort of a hero, so he makes it appear that there was greater danger than really existed, or that his report was a little more warlike than it really was, or that the other fellow was much more seriously worried than was the case. But at any rate, there is usually exaggeration in every statement one hears—and that's the trouble. Many persons complain that the newspapers do not print the truth, or magnify everything or make it sensational. The facts are that the newspapers are much more conservative in handling all matters than is the average reader. The newspapers do take some pains to verify alleged occurrences, and to get at the facts, but the average man not only fails to do that—he actually draws upon his imagination and exaggerates in many instances simply for the sake of making himself or his story more entertaining—as he supposes.—Columbus Dispatch.

One thing, at least, we like about this Women's Federated Club is that it calls its president the chairwoman and not the chair-lady.

We've waded through billows of chaff at the Chicago conventions and never a word have we seen about Gussie Gardner. And only so lately Gussie was given to parading and clucking around with the air of a man who had the sole right and patent on Preparedness and all things thereto appertaining.

Willy Woodrat Spies Something

"WHAT ARE YOU looking at, Willy Woodrat?" asked Mrs. Willy one evening just before the short twilight faded away into night.
No answer.
"Willy Woodrat," she repeated. "What are you looking at? Tell me!"
No answer.

Willy Woodrat stood perfectly still and kept his eyes fixed on the tree at which he had been staring for many minutes.
Mrs. Willy knew that it was useless to ask him again. If he did not answer a question at the second asking he never would. Willy was queer that way. Sometimes he would chatter away in a lively fashion; and then sometimes he wouldn't answer a word to the most urgent questions. Willy always explained that he wanted Mrs. Willy to have the fun of finding things out for herself—but at answer didn't satisfy Mrs. Willy a bit. She didn't want to bother to find out things for herself, she wanted to be told in the quickest way possible, just as you and I do.

But she knew Willy. If he wanted her to discover something for herself, she might as well start discovering at once for he'd never tell her where to look. (That was very good training for Mrs. Willy's sharp eyes, though she didn't realize it!)

She slipped around behind him and looked up to where his eyes were watching—up at the big sycamore trunk. But she couldn't see anything of interest.
"Maybe I'm not looking right," she thought, and she again looked up, and then, seeing she had been right, she again looked up at the tree.

She was just about to say "Willy, how silly you are to sit there looking at that sycamore tree that's been there forever!" when Willy whispered, "There he is again!"

"Who? Where? What?" cried Mrs. Willy, all excitement in a minute.

"The bat," replied Willy, scornfully. "I thought you were watch-

When the Green Gets Back On the Tree

In spring, when the green gets back in the trees,
And the sun comes out and stays,
And your boots pull on with a good, tight squeeze,
And you think of yer barefoot days;
When you ort to work and you want to not,
And you end yer wife agrees
It's time to spade up the garden lot,
When the green gets back in the trees—
Well! work is the least o' my ideas
When the green, you know, gets back in the trees!

When the green gets back in the trees, and bees
Is a-buzzin' round again
In that kind of alay, go-as-you-please
Old gait they hum round in:
When the groun's all bald where the hayrick stood,
And the crick's riz, and the broom
Coaxes the bloom in the old dog-wood,
And the green gets back in the trees—
I like, as I say, in such scenes as these,
The time when the green gets back in the trees!

When the whole tail-fethers o' winter time
Is all pulled out and gone!
And the sap it thaws and begins to climb,
And the sweet it starts out on
A feller's forced, a-gittin' down
At the old spring on his knees—
I kindo' like jest a-sloam' round
When the green gets back in the trees—
Jest a-potterin' round as I-durn-please,
When the green, you know, gets back in the trees.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

A Paradox

I have laughed, and I also have wept,
While to figure this out I have striven;

A Dry Reception

A stranded, but still haughty "leading lady" was obliged to put up at a dilapidated country hotel. She glanced frowningly about the office, reluctantly signed the register and took the brass key from the proprietress.

"Is there water in my room?" she demanded.

"Why, there was," replied the proprietress, "but I had the roof fixed."

Safeguarded

The following is a bona fide statement made by a 7-year-old girl who had listened to medical talk all her life. Being asked her father's business, she replied:

"My father is a doctor, but he isn't a quack! My father's got a license, so if he kills any one they can't arrest him!"—Yarna.

Getting Even

A singer who recently passed an evening at the house of a lady stayed late. As he rose to go the hostess said:

"Pray, don't go yet, Mr. Basco; I want you to sing something for me."

"Oh, you must excuse me tonight; it is very late and I should disturb the neighbors."

"Never mind the neighbors," answered the woman, quickly; "they poisoned our dog yesterday."

Belonged To The Reserves

"Yo' a tramp? No, sir! I'm a member of the army of toil!"

"You toil! That's a joke. I never saw you toil."

"Of course not. I'm a member of the reserves!"

As She Heard It

A young lady who was inspecting bicycles said to the clerk: "What's the name of this wheel?"

"That is the 'Belvidere,' answered the salesman.

He was rewarded by a stony glare and the icy question: "Can you recommend the Belya?"—"Three Partners."

Exclamatory Rheumatism

Mrs. Mason's colored washer-woman, Martha, was complaining of her husband's health.

"Why, is he sick, Martha?" asked Mrs. Mason.

"He's vey pol'y, ma'am, vey pol'y," answered the woman. "He's got the exclamatory rheumatism."

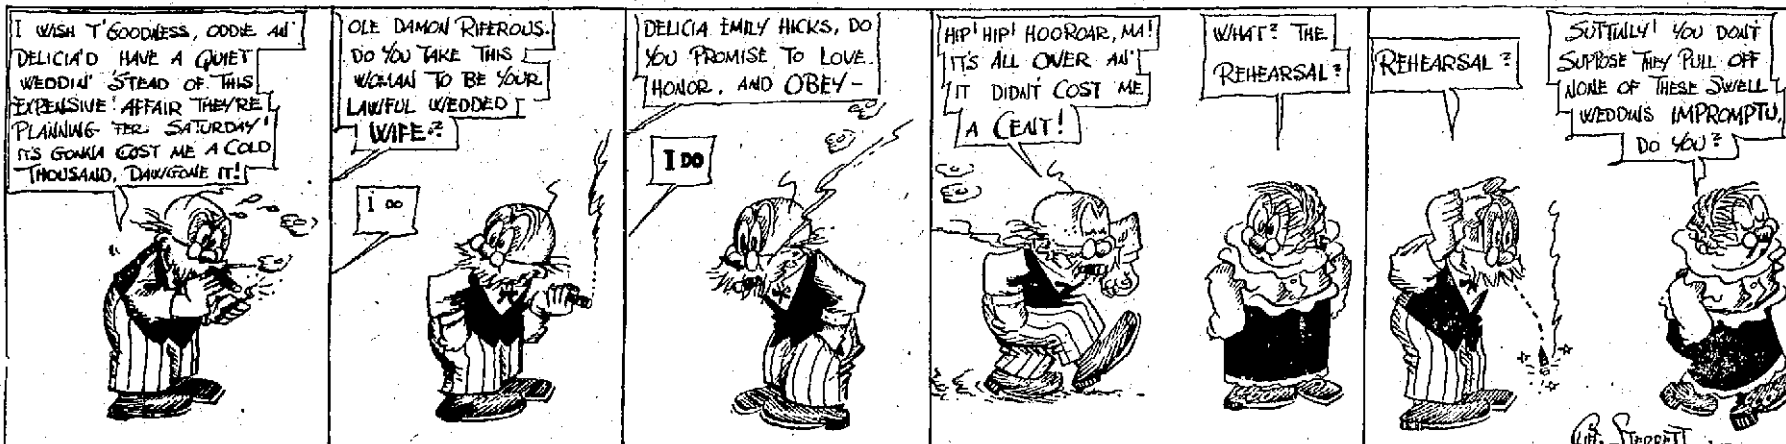

"You mean inflammatory, Martha," said the patron. "Exclamatory means to cry out."

"Yes, ma'am," replied Martha, with conviction; "dat's what it is. He hollers all the time."

HUNTINGTON'S MURDER MYSTERY MAY PROVE TO BE AN "ACCIDENT"

Huntington, W. Va., June 13.—If Bessie White, formerly of Miller, O., is alive, he will be asked to explain how Mrs. Ida Estep Smith, 615 West Third avenue, met her death in the Ohio river.

If White, too, was drowned in the river, as the police believe he was, the recovery of his body will be the solution of what at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon appeared to be a puzzling murder mystery.

Last night, after a thorough inquiry, the police were confident that White's body will be recovered in a few days, and that, in the almost total absence of a motive for crime, it will be shown the couple perished by drowning when their leaky "jocboat" was overturned in the river opposite Fourteenth street, West, on Sunday, June 4th.

That the police believe their death accidental was evidenced last night when Chief of Police Sam Davis freed Fremont (Trigger) Smith, age 30, who had been lodged in the county jail yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock as a suspect. Smith, whose wife's body was found in the river, proved a complete alibi. He had been when told that his pretty young wife was last seen in company with a young man, who, according to all concerned in the case, was apparently infatuated with her.

The case, one of the strangest with which the police have had to deal in recent years, had its inception when on Wednesday, June 7, a woman's body was found floating in the river, just above Dam No. 28, at Westmoreland. The body was taken to the Chapman undertaking establishment, where until about three o'clock yesterday afternoon it laid nameless. About that hour Fremont Smith, who is well known to the local police, walked in the morgue, and after a cursory examination, declared the corpse that of his wife. Unmistakable marks on the body proved the identification, Smith declared. Shortly thereafter Smith was placed under surveillance by the police and when he told a conflicting story about his movements on the day the woman's body was found he was placed in jail and registered as "held for investigation."

In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Estep, who gave their address as 523 Twentieth street, arrived at the morgue and identified the body as that of their daughter. They were able to recognize her clothing. There was one circumstance about the body, which led the police to believe for a time that she had met with foul play. That was the presence in the dead woman's mouth of a quantity of tobacco, to which relatives said, she had been addicted. Doctors declared it hardly possible the woman could have drowned without some convulsive muscular action which would have removed the foreign matter from her mouth. At the same time, the clay eliminated the chances of her having killed herself by poison, such as carbolic acid.

Chief of Police Davis then questioned the woman's husband, "Trigger" Smith, as to his movements on June 4th, Sunday, the day when the woman was last seen. Smith's alibi was that on that day he was in jail at Charleston, as he had been committed to prison on a charge of "boozing." Smith declared he had been released on Monday, June 5, the day before the primary. He further declared that he did not come to Huntington until Thursday,

June 8, the day after his wife's body was recovered. In response to an inquiry the Kanawha county jailer confirmed the date of Smith's release from the prison as Monday, June 5, exactly as the prisoner had said. With Smith thus practically eliminated from the case, Chief Davis, assisted by Police Detective Frank Blake, and Patrolman Caldwell, set about to trace the last movements of the dead woman.

It was discovered that at ten o'clock Sunday morning she left her home on West Third avenue, accompanied by White, who was said to be a son of Dave White, of Miller, O. They expressed the intention of "going over the river," and both said they would return in the afternoon. They were seen to get in a small, leaky, "jocboat" at the ferry landing at Fourteenth street, West. The woman, it was said, had been drinking. The man who saw them get into the boat is R. C. King, ferryman, of 317 Fourteenth street, West. The woman, according to others who saw them Sunday morning, carried a small pearl-handled knife.

On the Tuesday following that Sunday, and the day before the woman's body was recovered, the jocboat was found floating in the river opposite Fourteenth street, West. It apparently floated out from underneath some barges moored on the Ohio shore. The oars were missing. King, the ferryman, said the last time he saw the couple, they were rowing up the river along the barges.

The police then, in the absence of a motive for murder, as White was described as mild-mannered and much in love with Smith's wife, concluded that the leaky boat somehow had been swept underneath the barges and that both White and the woman were drowned. The police are confident that a few days will prove the accuracy of this theory, but add that they will, in the meantime, continue a search for White.

White is described as about twenty-four or five years old, slender, dark complexion, and on the day last seen he was wearing a dark gray coat, a string tie with a red stripe in it, dark trousers, a greenish hat, and white shirt with white linen, or celluloid collar.

Row Over 17 Year Old Girl Causes Ex-Preacher's Arrest

A. M. Durham, a former preacher, now a Breece Manufacturing Company employee, of No. 2336 Ninth street, was locked up by Officer James Goad on a charge of disorderly conduct Tuesday morning as a sequel to a neighborhood disturbance.

Two physicians were called to attend Durham's 17-year-old step daughter, Nora Morgan, who swooned away and remained unconscious for some time. The physicians found no marks of violence upon her, as neighbors suggested. Instead she seemed to be suffering chiefly from shock.

Both Durham and the girl in turn visited Police Chief Henry Clark at headquarters Monday evening, the former in answer to orders given him after he had created quite a scene near his home Monday morning. It seems he had gone to the Powell home on Ninth street, where the girl had sought refuge Sunday night and when he was denied admission he stood out in the street and berated the family and all other neighbors who he said were sending his girl to "destruction." The girl told Chief Clark that she later slipped out a rear door of the Powell home and hastened back to her own home and that Durham started to use a switch upon her. She grabbed the switch and in the struggle it was broken but she received a couple of glancing blows.

Just what happened early Tuesday, the police have not yet learned, but when Officer Goad reached the scene in response to a hurry call he found the neighborhood in an uproar and quite a crowd surrounding the Harris home where the Morgan girl lay unconscious. Neighbors said Durham had just decamped after parading up and down the alley crying and beating his fists against the sides of buildings. Goad found him sitting on a log near athletic park. He was greatly agitated and persisted in his right to protect his step child against the interference of neighbors.

The disturbances seemed to have had their inception Sunday night when Durham banished from his home a young man who was calling on the girl. A stormy scene is said to have followed and according to reports Durham threw her clothes out of a window. It was then she went to the Powell home. He went after her the next morning to force her return.

Reports of all kinds are current in the neighborhood and the police officials expect to make a full investigation. The girl only recently quit school and has been working at the Irving Drew shoes factory. Durham came to Portsmouth from Vanceburg three years ago. There are five other children in the family. Durham says that while a resident of Kentucky he was a preacher of the New Light Christian church.

Complaints Made At Police Station Result Of Actions Of 2 Women

The police were kept busy Monday afternoon listening to complaints that a "crazy woman" was on a rampage in an alley house east of Gay street between Tenth and Eleventh streets.

Patrolman Joe Beckell upon reaching the home found two women there. One of them giving the name of Mary Hatfield, was drunk, while the other, a Mary Arthur, was acting strangely, chattering something which Beckell likened to the "unknown tongue." Probate Judge T. C. Beatty was notified by Clerk Harry Johnson. The judge said he would order her arrest if some one would prefer a lunacy charge against her. Calls continued to pour into headquarters and Patrolman Tom Albrecht was also sent to the scene. Tom satisfied himself in short order that the woman was crazed by drink. Both women were brought to the police station. Mrs. Arthur was locked up, while her companion was later released.

X-RAY WILL SHOW CHANCE FOR LIFE

An X-Ray picture of the back of William Pitts, New Boston foreigner, who fell out of a window in that village Saturday night and sustained probable fatal injuries, will be taken today to determine whether or not an operation will save his life.

After a careful examination of the man's injury Monday attending physicians announced that the third and fourth vertebra of the spine were fractured and that the man had no chance for life in his present condition. An operation might save his life.

Painter's Torch Is The Cause Of Small Blaze

A gasoline torch which was left too close to the wood work caused a slight fire at the home of H. D. Oberling, 429 Waller street, Monday evening. The Seventh street and East End fire companies made the run. The blaze was extinguished before any damage was done.

The torch was being used to burn some old paint off the wood work in the dining room and was left sitting too close to the wood, it is claimed.

BIRD BALLYHOO LAUGHED AT "ANTI" AND WAS BARRED FROM PARADE

"VOTES FOR WOMEN" is the only bird ballyhoo for suffrage in the world, was banished from suffrage parade headquarters in Chicago, because he laughed at an anti who was just on the point of being converted to the cause.

"Votes" job was to sit on a golden perch near the door and urge all women passing along Michigan avenue to "Come on in and sign up for the parade."

Mrs. Margaret Sickles Injured In Bad Fall

Mrs. Margaret Sickles, who is with her daughter, Mrs. James H. Delph, at Nelsonville, met with a serious accident last Sunday while on her way to church.

Mrs. Sickles is almost 80 years of age and much enfeebled by a recent serious illness. Everywhere you go in Nelsonville it is mostly up one hill or down another, and Clinton street where the Delphs reside is terraced with steps between intersections. It was while descending one of these that Mrs. Sickles lost her balance and fell to the street below, sustaining a bad cut on her head, severe injury to her side and many bruises. Although her injuries are quite painful she is getting along nicely and expects to be up and about again in a few days.

Kaps Bros. have the foundation for the new Fourth Street Methodist church at Franklin avenue and Logan streets, half completed. The corner stone laying is expected to be held Sunday, June 25th.

OBITUARY

Anson Perry Wisdon
Anson Perry Wisdon, familiarly known as "Pete" Wisdon, who for many years was a resident of Carey's Run on the West Side, died at 1230 Tuesday morning at the family residence in the rear of the Fourth and Union streets school building. He had been ill since February with kidney trouble, but his condition did not become serious until ten days ago.

Mr. Wisdon had for years been engaged in contracting work and was one of the original pile driving contractors in this vicinity. He had done much public work in Scioto county. Mr. Wisdon was 72 years old on last Christmas day. In addition to his wife, Mrs. Emma Ailshire Wisdon, he leaves two sons, John and Charles, one brother, Henry Wisdon of this city, and one sister, Mrs. W. R. Smith of McDermott.

Mr. Wisdon in the early 60's enlisted with Company A of the 30th Regiment of Ohio, but he was injured on his way to fight for his flag and never took part in the Rebellion. During the past ten years he had been a well known resident of this city.

The funeral services will be conducted from the home at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon and interment will be in the Carey's Run cemetery on the West Side.

Mrs. Rebecca Cooper.

Mrs. Rebecca Cooper widow of Ernest Cooper, died at her home on Upper Twin Creek late Sunday afternoon of infirmities. Mrs. Cooper was 86 years of age.

Mrs. Cooper lived all her life on Upper Twin Creek and vicinity. She was a good Christian, home loving woman and had hosts of friends who will be sorry to learn of her death.

The deceased leaves four children, Charles and Mert and Mrs. Anna McGraw of Upper Twin Creek and Mrs. Theobald Evans of Rocky Park. The funeral was held from the home Monday
